Unknown Soldier Bier Designated Today by General

EPINAL, France (U)—A moist-eyed general solemnly marched past 13 flag-draped caskets today and chose one symbolizing American servicemen who died unidentified in Europe and North Africa in World War II.

The casket was borne away to a rendezvous at sea to join a similarly selected American who died in the Pacific. One of these nameless men will be the Unknown Soldier of World War II. The other will be buried at sea off Norfolk, Va.

In Three Assaults

Gen. Edward O'Neill of St. Albans, Vt., a scholarly greying man with battle decorations for three assault landings, stood with head bowed for a full minute before choosing one of the 13. Then he marched forward, and placed a red and white wreath on the casket fifth from the left.

An honor guard of living comrades saluted as a bugler sounded "Taps," and a second bugler far away sounded the sad, nostalgic echo.

5,000 Americans Dead

A grey mist hung over the cemetery where 5,000 American dead are buried in the Vosges Mountains overlooking the winding Moselle River.

About 500 people, many of them Frenchmen wearing wartime ribbons in their lapels, stood silent as the flag-draped casket was borne away. A bird sang in the surrounding woods. Four other men and the sound of a jet plane could be heard far overhead in the mist.

Three Chaplains Pray

Three military chaplains—a Jew, a Roman Catholic and a Protestant—asked God's grace for the unidentified soldier.

The 13 soldiers in their last silent formation here were drawn from all the American cemeteries in Europe and Africa. They symbolize (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

14 Die in Mishaps Over Past Weekend

ALBANY, N. Y. (U)—Five children and a mother of three were among 14 persons who died in accidents over the Mother's Day weekend in New York State.

Automobile accidents claimed 10 of the lives in the period from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

A workman was injured fatally Saturday when an explosion apparently hurled him out of a 14th floor window to a sundeck two floors below. Another man perished in a fire.

In Lyncoeur, near Syracuse, 13-year-old Johanna Sackett died of carbon monoxide poisoning yesterday when a chimney plugged in the family home. Four other members of the Anthony Sackett family escaped death when Johanna's brother, Barry, 18, kicked open a window.

Three-year-old Charles T. Hauswirth Jr. apparently drowned in Onondaga Creek in Syracuse Saturday.

The youngster had climbed out on a pipe that jutted over the creek. Two other children said they saw him fall into the water. The body has not been found.

A mother who saw two of her children killed accidentally 11 months ago lost a third child yesterday. He was Charles Duesler, 15, of Gloversville, who died of head injuries suffered Saturday when thrown from his bicycle as he swerved to avoid a car.

Last June 30, his mother, Mildred Duesler, was a witness when Sharon Duesler, 10, and Delos, 7, were killed by a bullet from a rifle being tested by their father, Nellis.

Two boys, one 6 and the other 7, met death yesterday in Brooklyn. The six-year-old, Bruce Mitchell, was struck down near his (Continued on Page 20, Col. 3)

Pollution Order

At the May meeting of the town board of the Town of Rochester a communication was received from the State Water Pollution Control Board stating there had been an extension of time to June 1, 1958, for the Rondout Paper Mills of Nanapanoch to comply with certain requirements regarding pollution of the Rondout creek.

All members of the board were in attendance. Other officials included Superintendent of Highways Richard T. Gray, Tax Collector LeRoy C. Kelder and Enforcement Officer Raymond L. Wheeler.

Routine business included presenting the supervisor, collector and town clerk reports and auditing of bills in the General Fund.

The final approval of the state for the Erwin Road program was also received. Superintendent of Highways Gray presented bids for road materials.

Among the resolutions adopted was specifications for roads to be accepted by the town and the Multiple Dwelling Enforcement requirements.

The remaining list of delinquent dog owners was also reviewed by the board.

The board expressed its appreciation to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and also to Post Commander Hyman Bank and Daniel Hamlin for the film projector which was used at the Civil Defense meeting sponsored by the town board which was held at Accord Fire House, and also to Major H. Edgar Timmerman who gave an interesting CD talk.

Minutes of the previous board session were read and approved on motion of Councilman Sims.

Supervisor Terwilliger received the refund of $2,000 which had been deposited with the county treasurer in 1951 for County Aid Road No. 500. This program is no longer in existence and Supervisor Terwilliger was authorized to request the refund by action of the previous meeting.

Red Skelton's Son Dies, Loses Leukemia Battle

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Comedian Red Skelton and his wife, Georgia, today found some solace in the belief that the international publicity on their son's valiant but losing fight with leukemia may help future victims of the cancer-like disease of the blood.

"I want the thousands of people who have written us that they prayed for Richard during his illness to have faith that God will answer their prayers," said Skelton.

"I believe that good comes out of everything, even tragedy such as ours. Maybe the world will know now that this disease must be licked. I think it is the beginning of all cancer."

The 9-year-old boy died Saturday night after a 16-month fight with the disease. Only blood transfusions had kept the child alive in recent weeks.

Communist sources in Warsaw reported last Thursday that members of the party's Central Committee in the Soviet Union are pressing Khrushchev to be tougher with Yugoslavia's President Tito. Informants in Belgrade now say Khrushchev is doing just that.

Soviet Ambassador Ivan Zamiaty returned to Belgrade from Moscow Saturday, bringing word that Soviet President Klement Voroshilov has postponed indefinitely his visit to Yugoslavia. Sources close to the Soviet embassy in Belgrade said the ambassador relayed word from Khrushchev that Tito must get in line lest he undermine the unity of the Communist world.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda has hinted that Russian economic aid to Yugoslavia may be halted unless Tito abandons his independence from Moscow dictation.

Warsaw Communist sources reported last week that Khrushchev ran head-on into opposition from party leaders Mikhail Suslov and Piotr Pospelov when he returned from his visit to Hungary. The sources said Khrushchev called a central committee meeting to lay down the law on Soviet foreign policy and to bring pressure against Suslov and Pospelov.

Rap at Khrushchev

Polish Communists interpreted Red Chinese and Czechoslovakian assaults on Yugoslav Communist policy as a rap at Khrushchev. Khrushchev said Friday night at a Czechoslovak embassy reception in Moscow that "relations in the whole Socialist-Communist camp are very solid...solid as never before." But he added they could be better.

Road Is Rerouted To Miss Dog's Grave

VIRGINIA, Minn. (U)—Sport, who stole the hearts of his owners before he died seven years ago, will remain undisturbed in his grave.

A construction crew building a road to a telephone company microwave substation north of here came upon the dog's grave last week while cutting through heavy timber.

The wooden marker, engraved with the inscription, "Sport, he stole our hearts, but his maker took him back, June 19, 1951," apparently moved the workmen.

The road was rerouted to miss the grave.

Leaders in Harlem Church Backing Powell in Trouble

NEW YORK (U)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-N.Y.), under indictment on charges of federal income tax evasion, has the support of leaders of his Harlem congregation.

Powell, pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist Church for 20 years, did not appear yesterday to deliver two scheduled sermons.

His followers jammed the Harlem church. At the end of the noon service the ministers, board of deacons, board of trustees, women's committee, men's committee and the staff of the church passed a resolution affirming their full support of the Negro minister.

The resolution said: "We call on the religious community to stand with us and to offer constant prayers to almighty God that his (Powell's) enemies may be confused so that he can continue to fight wherever God gives him an opportunity for the rights of common men."

Powell has shunned public appearances since a federal grand jury indicted him last Thursday on three counts of income tax violations. If convicted on all counts, he would face a possible maximum penalty of 30 years in prison and $30,000 in fines.

The congressman's troubles have been compounded by Democratic Party moves to refuse him renomination.

Democrats Rake Republicans At Political Education Day

The fifth annual "Day of Political Education," sponsored by the Ulster County Democratic Women's Club, was held Saturday at the Governor Clinton Hotel with some 200 persons attending.

The sessions opened at 10 a. m. and continued until 3 p. m., with numerous workshops and speakers.

Speakers at the luncheon were: County Supervisor John J. Gaffney, town of Lloyd, minority leader, Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

State—Eleanor Clark French, acting vice-chairman, Democratic State Committee.

National—Dr. Mabel Newcomer, professor emerita of economics, Vassar College, member of the committee on domestic economic policies appointed by the Democratic National Advisory Council.

Foreign Affairs Committee, the measure authorized a $3,603,000 program for the year starting July 1—339 millions below President Eisenhower's request.

Expect Wednesday Passage

House passage of the authorization bill was expected about Wednesday. This would send the bill to the Senate.

Secretary of State Dulles plugged anew for the program in a Minneapolis speech Sunday night. He said the Soviets are dangling tempting aid offers before underdeveloped countries with the intention of subverting them.

Hostile Despotism

Thus U.S. help abroad is vital to combat "a hostile despotism which seeks to strangle us," Dulles said.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) acting chairman of the House committee, and Rep. John M. Vorys (Ohio), a Republican leader, have said the 339-million-dollar committee cut below what Dulles termed Eisenhower's "rock bottom" figure put the bill in relatively good shape to survive expected House attacks.

Nixon Incident Cited

But during the past few days there have been rocks hurled at Vice President Nixon in Peru, bullets fired at the American ambassador's residence in Haiti and the torch applied to a U.S. Information Service library in Lebanon.

Also causing concern to aid supporters is a secret General Accounting Office report alleging heavy waste in U.S. dollars for the small Southeast Asia country of Laos, where recent elections came out less than satisfactorily from the American point of view.

On the plus side for the aid bill could be the widening Yugoslav-Soviet rift. Sens. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.) agreed Sunday that this is likely to dampen prospective moves to halt further aid to Tito's government.

Hospital Week Is Set May 11 to 17

"Careers That Count" will be the theme of Hospital Week proclaimed May 11 through 17 by Governor Harriman. Benedictine and Kingston Hospitals will stress career opportunities in the hospital field in the observance of the week sponsored annually by the American Hospital Association.

Joining with other hospitals throughout the United States and Canada, the local hospitals will attempt to interest the people of the community in hospital careers.

Robert M. Schnitzer, administrator of Kingston Hospital, pointed out that "personal shortages exist today in the hospital field in spite of great increases in both payroll and the number of employees." Although nursing is one area in which many personnel are needed, a wide variety of positions in addition to nursing are open to young people today, he said.

Sister Berenice, administrator of Benedictine Hospital also urged local attention to efforts to arouse interest in hospital careers. "Modern science has made great advances in the prevention and control of diseases and disabilities. Medical progress, which in turn means hospital progress, requires new tests, treatments, equipment and of course additional skilled personnel to make these services available," she said.

In proclaiming Hospital Week, Governor Harriman called hospitals in the state "among the finest in the country."

Points to Failures

Gaffney said he felt the improved position of the party since last year was due to defeat of the county manager plan of government, the carelessness with which the supervisors were going to buy two-way radio equipment which would not meet civil defense specifications and their failure to consult Maj. H. Edgar Timmerman, Ulster-Clinton Civil Defense Council director, and the defeat of the Howard Resolution which would have made the agenda of the supervisor's meeting available to the supervisors before the meeting.

ed U. S. interest in a polar inspection system "so that none need fear that these new polar routes will be traveled by bombers or by missiles unleashing surprise attack."

But Khrushchev said the polar proposal "is designed to gain advantages for the U. S. A." and does not spring from any desire for peace.

Khrushchev, while voicing doubts, said Russia would agree to technical talks on how to police a test suspension agreement because, as the Moscow radio summary put it, "The President regards (such talks) as very important." But he added that "work should be completed in the shortest term agreed upon beforehand."

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, followed that up with a statement saying Khrushchev's note "seems to constitute recognition of the validity" of a position long held by the United States and many others "that examination of the technical aspects of disarmament measures should begin as soon as possible and might serve as the basis for progress toward agreement on disarmament."

Whiteface Deemed a Poor
Place for Ski Olympics

ALBANY, N. Y. (U)—A state advisory committee on skiing today indicated strong opposition to scheduling winter olympics or other top ski competitions on Whiteface Mountain.

The state opened a 2½-million-dollar ski center on the Adirondack peak last December.

There have been several unofficial proposals by skiers and others that New York seek the winter olympics for Whiteface as a means of bringing international recognition to the new center.

But the conservation commission's advisory committee on skiing said in a report today it was skeptical of any proposal to hold top international or national competitions at Whiteface.

The committee told Conservation Commissioner Sharon J. Mauch:

"Quite candidly, eastern snow conditions are chancy. . . . We should only like to suggest that the publicity would be, all (Continued on Page 11, Col. 4)

Fight Rein on Reds

Police kept a tight rein on Colombia's 5,000-member Communist party, which obviously was determined to create as much of a disturbance as possible. Authorities arrested at least 12 demonstrators some 200 jeering, hooting students in a crowd of 2,000 and another group of about 80 youths in the crowd of 1,000 which watched Nixon put a wreath on the statue of Simon Bolivar.

Generally, however, the Colombian crowds were friendly or enthusiastic.

Communist-led students reportedly had planned to pelt Nixon with coffee beans and rotten fruit, but the best they managed was to chant anti-U.S. slogans while a military band played the Star Spangled Banner. Mounted police with drawn sabers scattered the troublemakers.

Seem Confused

Encouraged by his reception in Bogota, Nixon observed later that the Communists seemed a little confused.

He sidestepped one Red demonstration at Santander by taking a car there instead of walking as he planned. He arrived before the noisy crowd realized what had happened.

Months of mounting political tension erupted over the weekend with the burning of the U.S. Information Agency's library in Tripoli. The rioters destroyed every book and piece of furniture.

Vandals Sought For Desecration Of 5 Cemeteries

ALBANY, N. Y. (U)—A hunt was on today for the husky vandals who toppled 43 headstones and damaged three burial chapels in five small Jewish cemeteries.

The loss at the most seriously damaged chapel was estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000. Drapes were torn from the walls, stained-glass windows broken and religious objects smashed. Many headstones were split.

State police said the rampage of desecration apparently took place Saturday night. A caretaker who left Friday discovered the damage on his return yesterday morning.

Troopers, pressing an investigation, said at least two and probably more men spent three hours in the cemeteries to do so much damage. They must have been well-muscled to move so many grave markers, they added.

Nathan M. Goldberg, commander of the local post of Jewish War Veterans, called it an act "so base and cruel as to defy all tenets of decency, morality, ethics and religion."

He said he would ask Gov. Harriman's office to direct State Police to use their full resources to catch the culprits.

The cemeteries, owned by five Jewish associations, adjoin on busy Route 20 just west of the city line. None of the 2,500 bodies buried in the cemeteries was disturbed.

Yesterday was Mother's Day, and hundreds of visitors who came to the cemeteries with flowers for their mother's graves were shocked at the destruction.

Red Skelton's

will be buried in the Forest Lawn Mausoleum, Sanctuary of Prayer. The rites will be Protestant, a family friend said.

Entombed with him will be a crucifix blessed only Saturday by Pope Pius XII. Last year the Skelton family had a private audience with the Pope.

"It was a highlight of the boy's life," Skelton told a reporter. On Saturday the boy asked his father if he could get a crucifix made by the Pope. It arrived after the boy's death.

The Skeltons are not Catholics but both Richard and Valentina, 11, attended parochial school at St. Martin of Tours Roman Catholic church. The boy was unusually religious. His room was filled with religious statues and pictures.

The funeral comes on the day Red's show is seen on the CBS-TV network. He told an associate to notify the network and the sponsors he did not want even a filmed show on the air that day.

"People understand how I feel," he said.

Benson Says Farm Economy Should Aid GOP in Fall

WASHINGTON (U)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today improved economic conditions in agriculture should carry over into the fall and help Eisenhower administration backers in farm belt elections.

"I rather doubt," Benson said, "that agriculture will be the major domestic issue in the November election that some have predicted it will be."

He made these remarks during a conference in his office with members of the Newspaper Farm Editors Assn., which opened a two-day meeting here.

An editor asked Benson if he thought the turn in the agricultural situation would help re-elect some Republican congressmen who have been after his scalp.

"I'm not so sure it will," Benson replied. "Farmers are not dumb. It is difficult to demagogue on the farm issue."

He said farm prices are up 10 per cent from a year ago and are at the highest level since the administration took office in 1953. Benson added that farm income this year is expected to be up 5 to 10 per cent from last year.

He added that he is more optimistic about the farm outlook than he has been at any time in recent years.

Jackie Robinson Says Golf Club Barred Him

STAMFORD, Conn. (U)—Jackie Robinson says a minority bloc of women kept him out of the High Ridge Country Club last summer.

The former Brooklyn Dodger baseball star said a majority of the club's 135 members had approved his application for admission but the wives of eight members opposed it.

"The minority was allowed to rule," he said.

However, Club Manager Irving Krassner said when asked for comment that Robinson had never applied for membership.

Robinson, a resident of Stamford, is a Negro.

Mrs. Knutson Is Still Candidate

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn.) said today she will stand by her decision to seek re-election in spite of her husband's request to drop out of politics.

She also made it clear she had no intention of discharging William Kjeldahl, her administrative assistant, who has drawn the ire of Andrew Knutson, operator of a small hotel in Oklee, Minn.

"I do not intend to get rid of Mr. Kjeldahl," Mrs. Knutson said. "You do not fire talent like that. He is extremely well-trained for that job."

Mrs. Knutson, just back from a trip to her home state, said Kjeldahl is remaining in Minnesota's 9th District to aid in her bid for a third two-year House term. She brushed aside all questions relating to personal matters between her and her husband.

Knutson issued a statement at Oklee last week saying he had asked his wife not to run for re-election. He said that since her election four years ago their home life had deteriorated to the extent that it is practically nonexistent.

He also said he wanted his wife to get rid of Kjeldahl, stating that he had exercised dictatorial powers over her.

House Approves Pay Hike for Servicemen

Ave Urges Bill To Aid All Idle Workers Outright

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—A House-approved bill aimed at helping workers idled by the recession could boomerang against New York State unless the Senate amends it, Gov. Harriman contends.

The legislation, sought by President Eisenhower, would provide federal loans for states that wished to extend the period in which jobless workers could draw unemployment insurance.

Asks Amendment

Harriman urged yesterday that the bill be amended along the lines of a Democratic proposal that would make such benefits available outright to all idled workers.

Eisenhower has denounced the Democratic plan as a "dole."

Harriman said legislation that would leave a decision on extending benefits up to the states would result in "shameful competition among the states to take advantage of the misery of their own citizens."

Measure Passed

The Republican-controlled New York Legislature passed a measure at the 1958 session extending the benefit period from 26 to 39 weeks, if federal funds are provided.

Democrat Harriman wanted the state to extend the period on its own, without relying on federal funds. He signed the GOP bill as the best he could get.

If the benefits were extended under provisions of the New York Law, the federal government would recover its money by increasing the federal unemployment insurance tax on employers. "This," Harriman said, "would place 150,000 New York State employees at a distinct competitive disadvantage with comparable industries in states which have not extended unemployment benefits."

Telegram to Douglas

Harriman expressed his views in a telegram to Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), a member of the Senate Finance Committee. The committee opens hearings tomorrow on the bill.

The telegram was released by the governor's office. Harriman is vacationing in Hobe Sound, Fla.

CRACKDOWN ON U.S. CRIME—Newschart details the way the government is running its organized drive against crime. The highest priority in the crackdown, according to Attorney General Rogers, will be given to 100 top racketeers. He did not name them. Head of the "task force" is Milton R. Wessel, a 34-year-old former assistant U.S. attorney in New York, now a special assistant to Rogers. D. Malcolm Anderson, 41, head of the Justice Department's Criminal Division, will exercise general supervision of the "task force." The anti-crime drive is largely the outgrowth of two recent events. One was the conclave of 63 top mobsters last November in upstate New York. The other is the evidence compiled by the McClellan committee that gangsters and racketeers have wormed their way into some labor unions and business firms.

The Passing Parade

MILWAUKEE (AP)—St. Vincent's Infant Asylum is closing its doors because orphanages have become old fashioned. The asylum, founded in 1904, once cared for as many as 60 children at a time, but populations of orphanages have declined because welfare experts now prefer placing children in foster homes.

The Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul plan to abandon their present building in the fall. They are considering establishment of a small home for emotionally disturbed teenage girls.

Seaford, Del., once a ship building center, is now a principal manufacturing town for Nylon thread.

Anti-American Sentiment Runs High in Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—If you are an American in Algeria these days, don't talk like one.

"Don't let them hear your American accent," a Frenchman friend advises. "Too many people down here hate Americans."

It doesn't show much on the surface. French Algerian teen-agers in U.S.-style blue jeans hang around U.S.-style snack bars and play the latest American hits on American-built juke boxes.

The teen-agers flocked to the theater to cheer "The Platters," an American singing group. But that same week an American had an American newspaper snatched from his hand by teen-agers.

"It's very indiscreet to carry an American newspaper in public," a French friend told the American.

U. S. Flag Barred

Many Algerians have little stands holding French and allied flags. You don't see the U. S. flag in some of these.

Why the anti-Americanism? You get a lot of answers, some contradictory or confusing.

Some say the United States isn't giving military aid to help France put down the 3-year-old Algerian rebellion. But they also say the United States is interfering in Algeria and the rebellion is strictly a French affair.

Others say the United States is trying to steal the oil resources of the Sahara. But they also say the United States isn't giving France enough help to extract the Sahara's oil.

Whatever the reason, keep your American accent to yourself in Algeria. Too many people down here hate Americans.

Within the next ten years you likely will be able to dial a telephone number to Europe directly from any point in the United States, reports the Illinois Institute of Technology.

SAME OLD KREMLIN

Never in its life has the Soviet Union been able to maintain a successful propaganda line indefinitely. Sooner or later its real purposes are showing, and the game is up with all but the totally blind and gullible.

It was widely argued that the Russians scored a great psychological victory when, after just finishing a series of nuclear tests, the announced a "suspension" of tests.

Many questioned their sincerity in this proposal, but still insisted it would have tremendous effect around the world.

Let's assume that it did. But now what have they done? With a marvelous chance to prove good intentions by accepting President Eisenhower's Arctic inspection plan, the Russians felt compelled to exercise their 83rd veto in the United Nations Security Council.

It was they, the 1220 Rhodes Haverly Building complained that U. S. planes were menacing the Soviet Union's Arctic borders. But when we offered them security in the form of a mutual check system, they said no.

Why would they do this? They must certainly understand that the veto is bound to erase most of their earlier triumph.

Two answers suggest themselves.

One is, of course, that they don't want the inspection either in the Arctic or anywhere else because their military maneuvers and preparations—far more extensive than our own—would be severely constricted.

The other is that they are only interested in peace steps which they initiate themselves, like the test ban "suspension." If the lead comes from somewhere else, they want no part of the arrangement.

Both answers are probably correct. And both mean that, as always, Russian peace proposals are intended not seriously but for propaganda effect.

A nation truly committed to the achievement of a lasting peace would grasp earnest proposals calling for rigid enforcement of a ban on arms tests, arms production, and menacing military maneuvers.

Furthermore, it would not worry over where the credit should fall. When real peace is gained and held, there is ample reward for all who play any role in its attainment.

It's the same old Kremlin, and so it will be, through gimmick after gimmick designed to trick the world's peace-hungry billions.

The trouble with all this space travel stuff is that children have more time to learn about it than parents do. It gets mighty embarrassing having to ask a 10-year-old to explain escape velocity and the problems of re-entry.

That businessman and his bride who were married in an airliner while smoke writers drew hearts against the blue sky seem to be having trouble again. Maybe this proves that the best marriages are not made in heaven, after all.

THIRST QUENCHER

It was established some time ago that wonders will never cease, so there's no use uttering the classic exclamation any more. Yet the amazed cry does spring to one's lips when certain refinements of life at its best are revealed.

From Chicago, for instance, comes word that golfers no longer face the hard alternative of toting their own liquid refreshments or waiting until they have trudged the weary way back to the club house. Now they can hire a helicopter to lurk about in the nearby ozone, ready to descend on signal and provide beverages.

A thirsty foursome has only to raise a yellow flag, whereupon the aircraft settles down and a pretty girl hops out to take orders. When each man is sipping his favorite juice, the helicopter rises to seek out other parched golfers.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE COMING ELECTION

In New York State, the Republican Party is gradually accepting the domination of United States Senator Jacob Javits. The other United States Senator, Irving Ives, who comes up for re-election this year, takes in his stride philosophical and remotely the problems of the day.

The task of the Republican Party in 1958 is to elect a Governor in the place of Averell Harriman, who is a Democrat. Harriman will run for re-election. He may have as his Senatorial nominee either Robert F. Wagner, the Mayor of New York City, Frank S. Hogan, the District Attorney of New York County, or the Roosevelt Postmaster General, James A. Farley. If Farley runs, he will attract many Republican votes, no matter who the Republican candidate is. It is not believable that any one of these men would fail to get the Liberal Party endorsement, although David Dubinsky and Alex Rose, two labor leaders who own that party, might be embarrassed if Nelson Rockefeller runs on the Republican ticket either for Governor or Senator.

If Rockefeller runs, Javits cannot lose. Should Rockefeller run for Governor and be elected, he would be in the same general grouping of the party with Javits whose claim to patronage and control of the State Committee he would not oppose. Should Rockefeller be defeated, Javits will have been the last Republican to have been elected to a statewide office. Javits is energetic, aggressive, opportunistic and inordinately ambitious. His singleness of purpose could leave Javits fully in control but with a reduced party to follow him.

Two other candidates will present themselves for the Governorship, Louis Lefkowitz, Attorney General of the State of New York and at this moment the only Republican in the state administration, and Leonard Hall, formerly Chairman of the Republican National Committee, who had assumed that he had the endorsement of the Eisenhower Administration.

An important factor in this situation which cannot be disregarded is the position of Thomas E. Dewey, whose influence in New York State remains enormous. It will not be easy for anyone to be nominated of whom Dewey altogether disapproves. Dewey would like to see Harriman defeated not only because Harriman is a Democrat of the New Deal persuasion, but it would appear, by circumstantial evidence, that the gentlemen have a distaste for each other. It would not be characteristic of Dewey to support anyone for the nomination who did not have a fair chance to be elected.

Republican chances are not too bright anywhere in the Northeast. For instance, in Connecticut, the Democratic Governor, Abraham Ribicoff, is unusually popular and can carry his party in on his coat-tails. The Democratic candidates for the nomination for United States Senator include Chester Bowles and Thomas Dodd who have earned a degree of popularity. The Republican Party which had been badly split now seems to have achieved a degree of unification, but it will take a complete recovery from the depressed economic conditions to overcome the effects of Democratic progress in a state which has had a long history of Republican control. Of course, the population of Connecticut has changed ethnologically from the Anglo-Saxon predominance which made the Connecticut Yankee a rare type of a very mixed population of Eastern and Southern European origin.

Massachusetts may now be regarded as a Democratic state. Little is left of the atmosphere in which the Lowells spoke only to the Cabots and the Cabots spoke only to God. It is a state of very mixed population and small adherence to past traditions. In New Jersey, the primary election this past Winter split the Republican Party in many ways and strengthened the power of Governor Meyner, who is an aspirant for either the first or second place in the 1960 Presidential election.

Pennsylvania Republicans do not particularly want Harold Stassen as their candidate for Governor but Stassen wants to run and there is no way of stopping him. The court action, designed to designate him as a carpetbagger, will not keep Stassen down. His eyes are on 1960 when he hopes to be able to challenge Vice President Nixon, a challenge which will serve no other purpose than to split the Republican Party. Should Stassen be elected Governor of Pennsylvania, he will surely be a candidate for the nomination for the Presidency.

The Civil War which used to make votes and Abraham Lincoln who freed the slaves are no longer an issue.

Surgery Remains Only Successful Method for Treating Cataracts

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Sometimes new treatments are proposed which sound promising at first but fail to pan out.
Q—Can you say something about the treatment of cataracts with a substance made from fish eyes?—M. L. L.

A—This was a treatment which was tried several years ago, but which was abandoned after it was found to produce serious complications. At the present time the only treatment for cataracts is their removal by surgery. This procedure is done successfully thousands of times each year.

Q—Twelve years ago I underwent a fenestration operation on my ears. I regained some of my hearing, but not enough. Do you think it is advisable to undergo the new stapes mobilization operation?—M. G.

A—This is a highly technical question and can only be answered after a most thorough examination of your present hearing and the condition of your hearing organ.
The stapes mobilization operation has proved highly successful for a large number of people who suffer from certain kinds of deafness. But, of course, it will not always restore hearing, since the location and nature of the deafness varies from person to person.

Q—Someone I know has a dark skin around the eyes and eyelids which I understand is the result of eye drops containing silver. Can anything be done for this?—L. L.

A—This sounds like a localized pigmentation of the skin with silver. It carries the name of argyria. Of course this should have been avoided by not using the silver preparation so long.

There is a treatment which was described in 1929, but it is difficult and time consuming. However, any skin specialist would know about it.

Q—Please give me some information about stone in the common duct. What can be done for it?—Reader.

A—A stone can become lodged in the joint passageway between the liver and gall bladder and the digestive tract, either before or after a gall bladder has been removed. Sometimes, these stones pass on their way into the digestive tract and do not cause trouble.

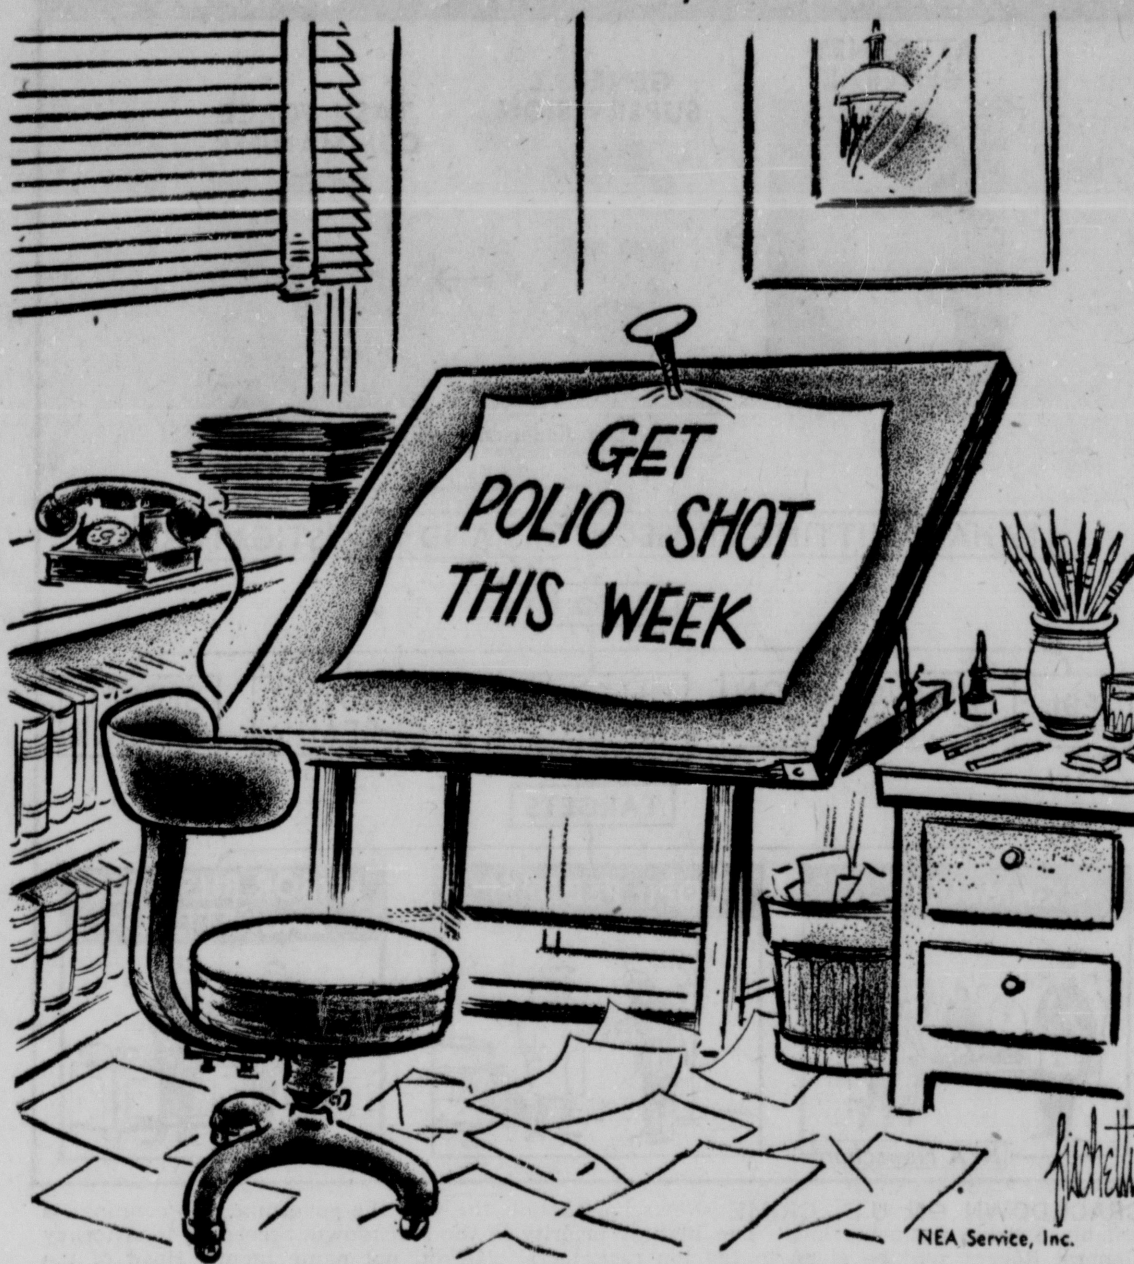

However, in many other instances they do cause pain, jaundice or other symptoms. In such cases they may have to be removed surgically, since there is no way to reach them medically by a substance which will dissolve them where they lie.

Q—I am 24 and have two children. My weight is average but I have trouble with loose and sagging breasts. I was wondering if there is some exercise which I could do to help.—Mrs. D.

A—I do not think that any exercises will help this situation. If it is serious enough to warrant action, probably the only possibility is plastic surgery.

NOTE ON QUESTIONS—Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — President Eisenhower's speech to Republican congressional candidates, telling them to base their campaigns for re-election on his defense reorganization plan, foreign aid and reciprocal trade agreement programs is giving Democratic candidates considerable glee.

For those tunes are at the bottom of the political hit parade in most congressional circles today.

The Pentagon reorganization plan is under severe attack before the House Military Affairs Committee.

Foreign aid has become increasingly unpopular at home. This year it is less popular than ever because of a feeling that more money should be spent for recession relief here — not abroad.

And just before the President's speech, Democratic leaders served notice on the Administration to come up with a compromise foreign trade program, or risk the danger of having the whole thing sabotaged by tariff raises.

FEW PEOPLE WILL QUESTION the President's appraisal of the seriousness of the Communist imperialism menace. But the realization that this menace can be fought best with military organization, foreign aid and trade is what will be hard to sell the congressman or the voters.

So in telling the GOP candidates not to become too preoccupied with domestic issues, the President may have played right into Democratic hands. For the domestic issues are the ones that the Democrats have been emphasizing all year.

The one paramount issue in the country has been the business recession of the last six months.

The question was raised in Washington as to who allowed the President to make a political blunder of this kind. The possibility that it would impair his leadership with the Republican members of Congress for the remainder of this session was discussed as soon as the text of the speech became available.

THERE WAS NO QUESTION but that it was a fighting speech. The trouble was that it bled for right issues at the wrong time. It was the timing that was bad, not the principles.

While the President offered to stand beside any candidate who would support him on his program, there was some doubt that candidates would endorse it in full, except as a secondary issue.

As a matter of practical politics, it is pointed out that the President's support and endorsement would not be as important this year as it was two, four or six years ago. The President is in his second term and will not be a candidate for re-election in 1960. Presidential coattail-riding won't be as compulsory a political sport as it was in 1956.

ANOTHER POLITICAL REALITY is that in mid-term elections, congressional candidates are much more on their own than in presidential election years. Candidates will be much more interested in convincing their constituents of a good record on domestic rather than international issues.

The first question which any congressional candidate must be able to answer satisfactorily this year is what he has done to relieve the recession. If he can't show a good record on that, he's in trouble.

It could be, of course, that the President believes the current recession will be well on the way to being over by next November.

Wrong Man to Ask

ENID, Okla. (AP)—Rodger Cornelius, Enid ambulance driver, is flabbergasted by all the telephone calls from mothers, seeking his advice.

The mothers have called to ask him about everything from formula mixtures to medical problems concerning their children.

The rash of telephone calls was started by a picture appearing in the local newspaper, showing Cornelius comforting a 3-year-old girl who received minor injuries when she was struck by a car. Cornelius "paced the floor" in the hospital while awaiting a physician, and the child went to sleep on his shoulder.

But he hasn't been able to offer much comfort to the mothers. "I'm a bachelor," he explains. "And what I know about babies you could put in a thimble."

ENID, Okla. (AP)—Charles Klein of Enid says there's lots of junk around his house, but that doesn't make it a junkyard. And broken pieces of china provide designs for his sidewalks.

An auto horn and other odd bits of "trash" will go into the big moose Klein is getting ready to erect in his yard for sightseeing youngsters in the neighborhood.

Troops-Withdrawal Order Revives Little Rock Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Americans rightly boast that theirs is "a government of laws — not of men." When a dispute arises as to whether Presidential powers are lawfully exercised, it is of the utmost importance that both sides of the controversy be presented to the public so that the citizens may know whether they are being governed by the arbitrary action of the executive branch of the government or by rules of law.

The White House has just made public a statement announcing that Federalized troops will be withdrawn from Central High School at Little Rock, Ark., at the end of the present school term. The statement is of historic importance because nothing like it has ever been issued before, and in the view of many prominent lawyers throughout the country, the position taken by the Federal Government in ordering the troops sent in was in violation of the Constitution and the laws of Congress.

The statement, in full text, says:

"Since last September the Federal government has stationed soldiers at the Little Rock high school to prevent obstruction of the orders of the United States District Court.

"Since the summer recess starts at the Central High School on May 28, and since there will be no further present need for guardmen, I have directed that they be released on May 29.

"Following that date I trust that state and local officials and citizens will assume their full responsibility and duty for seeing that the orders of the Federal Court are not obstructed. The faithful execution of this responsibility will make it unnecessary for the Federal government to act further to preserve the integrity of our judicial processes."

No Law to Authorize It

But, as various articles in the American Bar Association Journal and pronouncements by constitutional lawyers in the North as well as in the South have since pointed out, there is no law that authorizes the President of the United States to use troops to enforce court decrees. The power to request Federal troops to suppress disorder or insurrection devolves on the state authorities.

Also, a year before the Little Rock episode, President Eisenhower said to his press conference at the White House apropos of the possible use of Federal troops in a Texas school incident:

"Now, I assume that if that marshal is not able to carry it (an order of the Federal Court), out by himself, he has got the right to deputize any number of deputy marshals to help him carry it out. I really don't know what the next step

The Horseshoe Kid

By FRANK TRIPP

It was mere happenstance that the Tripps and the Stickelmans lived next door to each other one winter at Miami Beach.

There was no common interest between us, yet it was inevitable that our Nancy would get to know the neighbors, for she was that sort of get-about kid. Otherwise the amenities were little more than nods across the hyacinth hedge—except when I met Stickelman at the Pancost bar, rather often.

Charlie Stickelman was Maxwell Howard's business manager. Ailing Mr. Howard was wintering in Florida but his famed Frank Tripp racing stable was entered that year at the Santa Anita track in California.

My days were loafed on the sand at the Beach Cabana Club, where bookie Ray provided convenient facilities for my two-buck bets—invariably on losers.

WITHOUT RESULT I had tried to draw out Charlie on the ponies, but he was a clam. Then one morning Nancy came back from her rounds and said: "Dad, Mr. Stickelman says that they are risking the family pewter on Stagehand today."

What did he mean?

Well, well, so Charlie the clam was back-door slipping me one neighborly tip. Maxwell Howard's Stagehand was running that day in the $100,000 Santa Anita classic and here was a tip straight from the horse's mouth.

I got to the Beach Club early. Thinking to conceal that a two-buck plunger was going all out on a horse, I moved up from 5 to 10 to 50 on the nose so frequently, buying into the gravy so clumsily that the experienced gentry soon got my number.

MIDAFTEENON Ray warned me: "You're playing it crazy. The wise guys had it doped two hours ago that you live next door to Stickelman, and they're piling on top of Stagehand like kids on a strawride."

It's fantastic what will influence a horse best. I got cold feet and went home jittery, with a sizable wad on Stagehand's nose and the eyes of the smart club focused upon me. What if he lost? Would I ever dare go back?

The Santa Anita was run around 8 o'clock, Miami time. Glued to the radio after dinner,

Against the Pancost mahogany, Charlie told me: "That's a horseshoe kid you've got."

I sort of thought so, too.

SO THIS is a tinhorn sport's one and only contact with "the horse's mouth"—that top brass coincidence that suckers mistake for a "tip," more often a one-way ticket to the poorhouse.

The only guy who can put words in the horse's mouth is the jockey.

Frances Farmer Returns to Films From Obscurity.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (P)—"The change I notice the most is the lack of activity," said Frances Farmer on her first return in 16 years to Paramount Studio.

Back in the late '30s, she was under contract to the studio and was hailed as one of the screen's best young dramatic stars. She left Hollywood in 1942, her life under a cloud. She suffered a mental breakdown and lapsed into obscurity.

Worked as Hotel Clerk

Last summer she was discovered working as a clerk in a San Francisco hotel. The publicity led to TV appearances and a resumption of her career. Now she has run the full cycle, returning to Paramount to play in her first film since the war, "Party Crashers."

"This place used to be bustling when I was here last," she remarked as she walked through the studio streets. "I guess I expected it to be that way when I came back. Instead, I go into the wardrobe department and find it run by a skeleton crew."

Endured Mental Agonies

She returns to Hollywood a different woman. When she did her last film here, "Son of Fury," with Tyrone Power—she was flighty, erratic, a problem star. Few suspected the mental agonies she was enduring.

Today at 43 she is still a beauty—a charming, composed woman with a perspective on her own life. And she said she is a better actress.

The Farmer comeback started in Eureka, Calif., where she went a year ago after her parents died at her Seattle home. She started a new life as a bookkeeper and no one was aware of her former fame.

TV Started Cycle

Her life was changed when a TV executive named Leland Mikesell came to town. He recognized her at once, told her she should return to acting. He persuaded her to go to San Francisco with an eye toward working in little theaters there. Then came all the publicity and wham! Things started happening.

Recently, she married Mikesell, who has been managing her career. Now he has a TV job offer in Indiana and they are weighing whether he should take it.

I asked her if she thought her return was a good idea, since it brought with it many unpleasant memories.

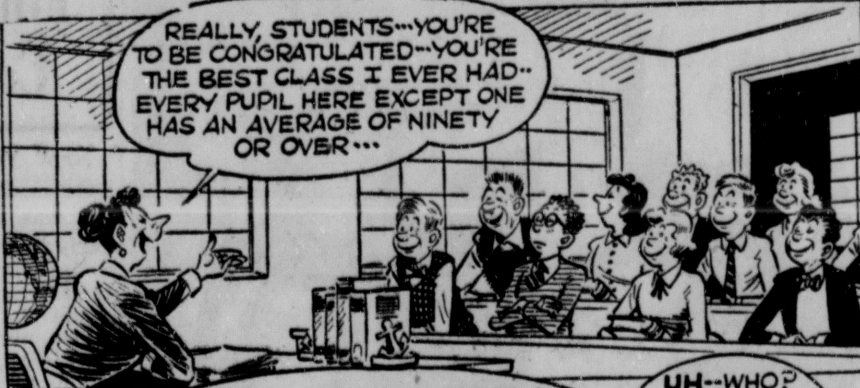

"I'm glad I did it," she said. "I think it's a mistake to turn your back on the training and experience in a profession you've known most of your life. Besides, I was a pretty poor bookkeeper."

Idaho State College in Pocatello has 654 married students, about 32 per cent of the student body.

Veterans' Rights, Benefits Listed

Howard C. Shurtler, county director of Veterans' Service Agency, and Peter B. Riley, state veteran counselor NYS Division of Veterans' Affairs, submit another in a series of articles on rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen and other dependents.

Scholarships — This year the State of New York has made 300 Regents War Service Scholarships available for veterans of the U. S. Armed Forces. This 1958 series is limited to veterans who have served on active military or naval duty between June 24, 1950 and July 1, 1955. Applicants must have been legal residents of New York State when inducted into the U. S. Armed Forces, must now be legal residents of the State of New York and must hold a discharge from the Armed Forces that is not other than honorable. The scholarship pays up to $350 a year for tuition and fees for a period of four years. In addition, eligible veterans must win a scholarship through a competitive examination which is held to determine the winners. Persons who have received benefits from an earlier series of Regents War Service Scholarships are not eligible to compete for this scholarship series. Applications must be made on or before May 22, 1958. The scholarship examination will be held June 7, 1958.

Insurance — Policyholders of National Service Life Insurance or United States Government Life Insurance should make their premium remittances payable to the Veterans Administration. Payments should be made by check or money order; not in cash or stamps. In addition to using the regular premium notice, veterans are urged to write their insurance policy number on their check or money order for ready identification in the event it becomes separated from the regular premium notice.

Loans — The GI direct loan is a revolving fund. Additional monies are deposited in the fund as the VA receives additional appropriations from the Congress, monthly payments on mortgages now held, or sells mortgages which it holds to private lending institutions. There are times, therefore that no loans can be made when the funds for making direct loans are exhausted. In this event applicants for a direct loan have to wait until more funds are available. As funds become available, applications for them are considered in the order in which they are received by the VA. Direct loan application forms usually are not forwarded to a person requesting them if there are not sufficient funds to make a loan at the time. Requests for applications for direct loans are filed as of the date they are received, however, and when there is reason to believe that sufficient funds will be available to make a direct loan to the applicant, he will then be forwarded loan application forms. He will also be notified of what requirements must be met to obtain a direct loan.

Questions about the rights and benefits of veterans, servicemen or their dependents may be submitted for individual attention to the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Parent Can't Ask Child's Quick Forgiveness for Wrong

If you're a decent person, one day — unavoidably — you'll realize you've wronged your child.

Perhaps you've punished him for telling you he didn't overflow the bathroom basin — and then discovered he told you the truth. Perhaps he's disobeyed your command to return his youngster sister's comic book — and in your anger struck him harder than you meant. Your punished child retreats to his room — and you begin to feel uncomfortable.

The sense of discomfort grows. To relieve it, you go upstairs to his room. You say, "Mommy was unfair to you. Will you kiss me and tell me you forgive me?"

But when you sit down on the bed beside your wronged child, he pulls away from you. It is clear that he doesn't want to kiss and forgive you.

I hope you don't insist that he does. Some parents do. Usually they are people who are always boasting of themselves. "There's one good thing about me. I can get mad awfully fast, but I'm always over it just as fast."

So after they have indulged their quick anger, they demand children's quick indulgence of their remorse. And by their coaxing insistence on forgiveness, they seek to stifle the children's resentment at abuse.

If we sincerely wish to repair an injustice we have done a child, the way to do it is to encourage his protest against it.

When we seek to evade his protest by premature demands for reconciliation, our remorse is false. Our wheedling pleas for his good will is domination — our effort to despoil the child of his resentment and replace it with affectionate feelings that will make us feel good.

It is dangerously confusing to a child to be required to get cozy with a person whom he's not ready to forgive.

So if our remorse is genuine, we don't ask him for kisses and cuddles. Instead we encourage him to protest the injustices our remorse has already protested. We say, "I'm sorry that I was unfair to you. I know how angry you must be with me. I want you to know that I think you have a right to be."

Forgiving us is the child's affair.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time I enjoy re-reading "The Story of Kingston" by our local historian, Captain Andrew S. Hickey. This book certainly belongs on the book shelf of local homes.

In Captain Hickey's chapter on Economic Developments for instance he goes into such details about our original "Big Ferry" or "Transport" as we called it years before the bridge was built across the Hudson here. He writes: "In the reign of Queen Anne, Governor George Clinton issued a charter on August 5, 1752, to Moses Cantine of Esopus and Abraham Kip of Rhinebeck, to operate a 'periauger,' propelled by 'arm strong motor' or sail, if the wind was sufficient. Kip had been ferrying people across the river as early as 1680 in a row boat. In 1790 the Elmendorf family purchased the route and introduced a 'horse boat' and later steam. In 1852 when the New York Central Railroad trains first stopped at Rhinecliff on the east bank, the ferry was purchased by the Kingston-Rhinecliff Ferry Co., and the landing stage changed from Columbus Point to a ferry slip about a mile west inside the Rondout Creek for greater convenience."

He further goes on to say: "When an Indian trail was widened in Dutch colonial days it became a road. Almost anything one could travel over at that time was called a road. Peddlers were the principal users in the winter when the river was covered by ice. Mounted post riders began carrying the mails in 1740. Road travel north and south at first by shank's mare, Indian runners, or 'foot post' by guides and trappers on horse back." Just about what we see on TV in the western pictures was going on right here in our Ulster County and along the Hudson River. Perhaps in the coming Hudson - Champlain celebration some of that interesting local history will be englamored for local showing. "In 1803 the Colonial Legislature authorized a road 4 rods wide (66 feet) from New York to Albany, and later, on the west bank of the river. Stage coaches passed through Kingston to New York and Albany, and stage lines ran to the western and southwestern part of Ulster County, starting at Rondout and making connections with river traffic at Columbus Point." Just picture those bonneted ladies in their wide skirts and gentlemen in their high hats getting into the swaying stage coaches right here in Rondout. No doubt sailing vessels brought them to Columbus Point which we now know as Kingston Point.

Captain Hickey further picturesquely describes the city streets as "indifferently built until just prior to the opening of the 20th century. Some of the streets, especially on the hills, were paved with cobblestones; in other places there were plank roads, and in a few, macadam or crushed stone. From Ponckhockie to Columbus Point traffic passed over a swamp covered by a 'corduroy road.' It was only a 100 years ago that Wall Street did not have sidewalks, and the street was full of mud holes where wagons often bogged down. That was Kingston sev-

ANOTHER CHEAP MONEY ERA

The money market is on the march. Interest rates are declining and the entire structure of America's credit system is being changed. In another unprecedented move, the Federal Reserve Board has reduced the discount rate to 1 1/2 per cent. Thus, within six months, the basic rates on money have been cut from 3 1/2 per cent to the present rate—a 50 per cent reduction.

The change has quickly influenced bond and preferred stock prices. In November, 1957, the long term United States Government 3 per cent bonds due on February 15, 1965, sold for $88-$89 for a $1,000 obligation, affording a yield to maturity of 3.53 per cent.

In less than six months, these bonds had gone to about 99—up 11 points of $110 a bond. And, from the looks of things now, they will go higher. Why? Because, as was noted above, the banking authorities have reduced basic borrowing rates from 3 1/2 to 1 1/2 per cent.

When banks can borrow money from the Federal Reserve Banks at 1 1/2 per cent a year, the high grade United States Government 3 per cent bonds should sell through 100 easily. They might go to 105.

Now these cheaper money conditions will slowly but surely seep down through America's entire credit structure. They will affect every borrower and every saver. Home builders will get cheaper mortgage money as will municipal and corporate borrowers.

And within a year it is likely that savings institutions which help to finance building operations will be lending money at lower rates than was the case when the Federal Reserve discount rate was 3 1/2 per cent.

This will automatically reduce the earnings of savings institutions and in logical succession interest rates on deposit accounts will eventually be cut.

Thus, another "cheap money" era is being ushered in. For nearly 10 years in New York City, the big billion dollar savings institutions paid 1 1/2 per cent annually on savings accounts. It is extremely doubtful if that rate will be approximated in the future. But it could get down to 2 1/2 per cent.

At all events, it is a foregone conclusion that recent changes in the basic interest rates will drive the prices of good grade bonds and high grade non-callable preferred stocks considerably higher.

Savers who insist on keeping all of their money in dollar form must expect to take lower interest rates.

When money rates are low, good quality preferred stocks usually sell to yield around 4 per cent. Today, before the impact of cheap money has taken its toll, many of the non-callable preferreds can be purchased to yield from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent.

It is a relatively safe prediction that many of these stocks will advance somewhat in price in the near future. And all investors who cannot take a reduction in interest income without lowering living standards should look into the non-callable, good grade preferred stock situations.

This lowering of interest rates will shortly exert great influence on common stock prices. For when bonds of good grade and other fixed income securities sell high with yields low, there is a natural tendency to look into other investment fields. Prime common stock prices will advance because of lower basic interest rates.

Democrats Rake

some of the achievements of the State Democratic administration, some of the things they were "frustrated in doing by the Republican legislators" and made a few predictions.

She said, as to campaign issues, "my guess would be the Republicans would try to train their guns on crime and labor legislation. We must spread the true facts far, wide and ceaselessly; answer their murky falsehoods with clear truths. If a Republican tries to claim that the campaign issues will be 'clean-up versus cover-up' as my Republican counterpart, Jane Todd, did in a recent speech, answer promptly, as I did in a letter printed in the New York Times.

"I pointed out that the Republican controlled Legislature (1) Refused to appropriate funds for expansion of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the State Police, as recommended by a non-partisan commission of district attorneys; (2) Refused to extend the statute of limitations on tax evasion to conform to the federal statute which the district attorneys said would help; (3) Refused to appropriate funds for additional parole officers which investigation had shown was clearly needed and would only cost $100,000 a year; (4) Refused to pass a law to create a commission of four members, two Democrats and two Republicans instead of the three-member commission recommended by the Proskauer Commission under the Dewey administration.

Deals With Labor Bill "As to labor legislation, we must point out the reasons why the Governor was forced to veto the labor bill to regulate improper labor and management practices. The bill was (1) hastily and poorly drawn; 17 pages long, was made available March 20 and passed on March 25 along with 200 other bills. (2) There was no discussion of the bill on the floor; no public hearing, and no opportunity granted responsible labor leaders and employers to examine the bill and suggest corrections. The Governor, who appointed the Summers Commission to investigate the field and report to him has stated he is in complete agreement with the commission on the need for good legislation and he has requested the commission to prepare well thought out and carefully drawn legislation for the next session of the legislature—after consultation with proper representatives of labor and employers and holding public hearings on the proposed legislation. When legislation as important to the welfare of all of us as this is at stake it is unthinkable to try to railroad it through the very last day of the session as the Republicans tried. The Governor had no choice but to veto the hodge-podge of a bill he was presented.

Calls for Spending Mrs. Newcomer discussed the recession and federal measures to meet it, pointing out that what is needed is more spending. She said that some action had been taken by the federal government "but mostly at the instigation of the Democrats in Congress."

She charged that the Republican administration had approached the recession program faintheartedly, pushed by the Democrats, and had not gone nearly far enough. She said the Democratic Advisory Council had been pushing for an increase in old age and unemployment benefits and a tax cut.

"All these measures will unbalance the budget—and get the increased spending which will encourage business expansion. But the federal administration has delayed much too long. Most of what has been done to date has been the result of Democratic pressures in Congress, and it is still (in my judgment) inadequate. We have expanding needs just because there are more people all the time. This the administration has failed to recognize. We have the resources. And increased government spending is not at the expense of the private economy. On the contrary, increased government spending now would get the private economy on the road back to prosperity."

Talks on Foreign Policy Dr. Hogan said that four issues lie at the center of all our foreign policy programs: 1. Is United States foreign policy now imitative or creative? The Eisenhower administration in 1953 changed very few of the basic principles of American foreign policy which it had inherited from the Truman administration. This put the Republican party in the position of carrying out a policy which it had condemned in the election campaign of 1952. However, slogans like "liberation instead of containment," "unleashing Chang Kai-shek" and "agonizing reappraisal" confused the public by giving the appearance but not the reality of a fundamental change in policy.

2. Is the United States exercising proper leadership in the world or are we too much on the defensive? Allowing for proposals for a peacetime international atomic energy agency and the "open skies" inspection plan it is obvious that the United States has lost much of its quality of dynamic leadership and has been placed constantly on the defensive.

3. Does our foreign policy reflect a correct understanding of the key issues in the world? The present administration has not been able to adapt itself to the great shift in world conditions during the past few years, as the problem has changed from one of military defense to one of economic, scientific and psychological competition. Yet the American people are entitled to expect from the national leadership a high degree of foresight and adjustment to new challenges.

4. Is our foreign policy effective? After all "the proof of the pudding is in the eating" and this last question is answered by the record of the last five years. In particular, policy toward the Middle East, 1954-56, is one of the saddest chapters in the history of American diplomacy.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected stocks were in demand as the stock market was mixed in active trading early this afternoon.

Most key stocks showed fractional changes. Wider moves were made by a few issues.

The market backed away from its latest 1958 high and was generally lower in early trading. Improvement set in before midday, leaving the general pattern irregular.

Over-all background for the market included an upturn in retail sales, a rise in housing starts for April and a decline in the number of workers drawing unemployment benefits.

Woodcutter Goes On Trial Accused Of Eight Murders

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—American-born woodcutter Peter Manuel, accused of eight murders, went on trial for his life today.

In a dramatic twist, his defense attorney pointed to a prosecution witness and accused him of three of the slayings.

Manuel has pleaded innocent to murdering three teen-age girls, three women, a man and a boy.

The prosecution witness, William Watt, was waiting to give evidence when Manuel's attorney pointed him out to the jury of nine men and six women.

The attorney charged that it was Watt, and not Manuel, who shot three women to death in his Lanarkshire home. The victims in that episode were Watt's wife, his daughter and daughter-in-law.

The attorney added he would also show that when three other victims were slain, Manuel was at his suburban home with four other people.

Under British law, a defendant can establish his own innocence by proving the guilt of another. Lawyers said this legal device, called a special defense, has not been used in half a century.

Manuel, 31, who was born in New York of Scottish parents and brought to Scotland as a child. He was arrested last January at his suburban home he shared with his mother and father.

He pleaded innocent to all the murder charges.

The alleged crimes were committed over a period between January 1956 and January 1958 all in the Glasgow area.

Finletter, who was secretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, gave his views to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. The committee is engaged in a review of U.S. foreign policy.

New York Leads Nation in Money Given for CARE

NEW YORK—New York State residents have contributed $23,071,768 for overseas aid through CARE since inception of the non-profit agency, Executive Director Richard W. Reuter reported today.

In a statement marking the twelfth anniversary of the first delivery of CARE food packages in Europe May 11, 1946, Reuter said this state led all others in support of the various CARE programs around the world. Contributions from the entire nation reached $135,159,742.

CARE distributions in more than 50 countries have thus far amounted to nearly 23 million food, textile and self-help tool packages valued at $275,000,000. This includes more than 260,000 tons of U. S. farm surplus foods given to CARE by the Government and valued at $140,000,000.

Recently returned from a survey trip to European and Middle East countries, Reuter announced increased emphasis on CARE's self-help program, which, he said, "puts into the hands of needy people in underdeveloped areas the tools and supplies to enable them to raise their own standards of living and becoming self-sustaining members of the community."

An estimated $30,000,000 worth of goods is taken from stores every year by shoplifters.

TWA Hires First Negro Stewardess on Line

NEW YORK (AP)—Trans World Airlines has hired its first Negro stewardess.

Margaret Grant, 21, will become the first Negro stewardess to fly aboard an international carrier based in the United States.

Hiring of the Hunter College senior was announced jointly yesterday by Charles Abrams, chairman of the New York State Commission Against Discrimination, and TWA officials.

The move is the third break in the ban that scheduled American passenger lines have long maintained against Negroes in flight posts.

Three Caught, Two Others Sought in Burglary Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—It's three down and two to go, police say, in the roundup of a ring believed to have committed more than 100 burglaries in three counties.

Held in Westchester County is Edward L. Smith, 31-year-old ex-convict. The investigation bore fruit when Smith, a Negro, was arrested April 22 in Eastchester for allegedly trying to run down two policemen. Smith was charged with attempted assault.

Police said Smith admitted being involved in 37 burglaries.

The investigation led to the arrest of two other men Saturday.

One, Raymond Durocher, 24, of Holyoke, Mass., was held in $15,000 bail. The second, Joseph Lowe, 22, of The Bronx, was turned over to Yonkers police. Durocher was charged here with vagrancy.

At an arraignment yesterday in Bronx Magistrate's Court, police from Scarsdale, Westchester County and Nassau County each asked for custody of Durocher. Magistrate John B. Lee told them they would have to confer to decide who gets first crack at Durocher.

Police said the ring is believed to be responsible for burglaries in Westchester and Nassau counties and the Riverdale section of The Bronx.

Thousands of dollars worth of jewelry, furs and other articles were stolen by the ring last winter, police said. The loot was unloaded in Philadelphia.

A fourth man and a woman are being sought.

Puritans from New England were the first settlers in Newark, N. J.

Something Wrong With American Homes: Graham

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A nation is no stronger than its homes and there is something wrong with the American home, Billy Graham told a Mothers Day audience of 16,300 at the Cow Palace Sunday night.

The evangelist noted there is one divorce for every 3 1/2 marriages in the nation and one for every two in San Francisco.

"It shows there is more unhappiness here than in any other city in the world," Graham declared as he opened the third week of his San Francisco crusade.

"The Bible teaches that marriage is a miracle," he said. "It is a serious, lifelong step and in God's sight is a sacred vow." Graham told wives to subordinate themselves to their husbands. "The wives are the keepers of the home — not the men's club — but the home. Greet your husband at the door with a kiss. He may faint the first time. It doesn't cost much to be attractive."

"The wife has the hardest job," he went on. "I had to take care of my five children one day while my wife went shopping. I'd rather plough new ground all day than go through that again."

Graham saw 575 persons make "decisions for Christ" at the end of his sermon, bringing the total to 8,180 for the crusade. Attendance now total 229,800.

Similarities

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Lou Kohn of nearby Ventnor and Lou Kohn of Atlantic City have much more in common than pronunciation of their names.

Both are insurance men, both have wives named Ida, sisters named Rose and brother-in-law named Paul.

Both had accounts in the same bank until Kohn changed his. Too many mixups, they agreed, even among friends.

Safety Inducement

Moline, Ill. (AP)—Molins are being induced to reduce traffic fatalities by an official give-away of free parking. Motorists will have one day of free parking for every 90 days that pass without a traffic fatality. The bonus was approved by the City Council after it was learned that Jackson, Mich., has a similar plan.

Meters are covered with paper bags on free days.

Health for All

A Chest X-ray for You?

We all recognize the vast improvements modern science has made in our lives, but with them often come new dangers. For example, X-rays have been one of the most important medical tools in diagnosis and treatment of illness, yet scientists warn us of the hazards of too much X-ray radiation. How much is too much? How does this affect you?

Let's suppose a chest X-ray survey to find TB is being held in the area where you live or in the place where you work. Should you get your chest X-rayed? In the first place, the amount of radiation to which you would be exposed is infinitesimal. The possible amount of harm is still being argued by scientists. Of course, as long as any harm is possible, you should not be exposed to unnecessary radiation. It's a question of weighing the benefits against the possible harmful effects.

X-ray surveys are usually planned for areas and population groups in which a high yield of TB and other chest disorders can be expected. The possibility that the X-ray may help find that you have TB so that it can be promptly treated and cured far outweighs the danger of radiation. With some groups a preliminary tuberculin test is recommended. If the test is negative, an X-ray would not be necessary.

If there's any question in your mind about having an X-ray, ask your doctor. If he recommends an X-ray, it is because he feels the benefit to you will be vastly greater than the danger.

Area Secretaries To Meet May 17, Will Form Chapter

Secretaries of the Kingston-Poughkeepsie area will meet Saturday, May 17, at Broglie's Restaurant, West Park, with representatives from the Albany chapter, National Secretaries Association International for the purpose of establishing a chapter in this area.

Secretaries interested in attending this luncheon meeting are cordially invited to get in touch with Mrs. Shirley Gornham, RD5, Rolling Meadows, Kingston, for information.

Non-Profit Group

The National Secretaries Association International is a non-profit, non-union organization unrestricted as to class, color or creed and embodies in its program continued education for the secretary, the awarding of scholarships to deserving secretarial students, contributory service to civic and charitable organizations and promotion of the CPS program.

Secretaries are now acquiring a professional status through a certifying examination, the successful completion of which will entitle the individual to the CPA (certifying professional secretary) certificate. This certificate signifies that the holder is well qualified to serve management by her complete knowledge of secretarial duties.

15,000 Members

At the present time, NSA has approximately 15,000 members affiliated with over 375 chapters in the United States, its territories and Canada. The world's largest association for women in one profession. It became incorporated for the purpose of upgrading the standards of secretarial performance and to acquire for the secretary a professional standing comparable to the CPA.

Management all over the country has recognized and approved the National Secretaries Association International because of its aims, purposes and accomplishments. It is hoped that secretaries and their bosses in the Kingston-Poughkeepsie area will join in this thinking and endeavor to establish an NSA chapter in their locale.

The following members of the Albany chapter will attend the luncheon meeting to acquaint secretaries in this area with NSA:

Mrs. Edith Baker, president, Albany chapter; Miss Venera Rizzo, corresponding secretary; Miss Helen Wyzinsky, membership chairman; Mrs. Margaret Clancy, Miss Josephine Luizzi, Miss Arline M. Palmer, Mrs. Ellen Zimmerman and Mrs. Marie N. Gorgas, past president of the New York State NSA.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—She breaks into the room, glowing with the health of almost-five. No energy higher. Or she sags into the room, like something pushed in to our family light from outer dark. At almost-five—her own age and the hour—she has 12-o'clock shadow.

She melts upon the doorstep, worn out human butter, yells for the bathroom, then, later, at the entrance to her bedroom pleads against the indignity of a night that seals a day.

Still Puzzled

As a father I never am quite sure whether she has been drained by Dracula or whether she is Dracula. Are all children like this? Other parents say yes. I still wonder.

The bread I earn by my sweat to bring home to make her stronger she often leaves by her plate. But to her I am the boy who may have gum in his pockets when he arrives at twilight. This is a hero? It is one of the great titanic struggles of my life to deal with this thing, this spawn of time, this one-hearted, two-legged, half-shelled egg, this creature that weeps and laughs and cries and plots and is my daughter.

Those Wistful Moments

It is called and answers to the name of Tracy. It was optimistically labeled at baptism Margaret Tracy Ann Kathleen Boyle. In play it refers to itself as Susan.

In wistful moments it says, "I'm Margaret." This is the name of its paternal grandmother.

Ask a kiss from it, and you get none. Insist you won't take any, and get a wet face.

It must be around four feet or so tall, weighs about 50 pounds, unless you lift it. Then it is eight feet tall and weighs 1,617,312½ pounds.

Not Paramount

It is also known by other aliases. A favorite is Cinderella, in which disguise, when asked to pick up its clothing, it has a set answer: plaintive but genteel, "Well, I can't be everywhere."

One who knows her wonders whether this isn't an understatement. In dealing with a child of this age a grownup has only two worries—what she is up to if you can see her, what she might be up to if you can't see her.

By almost-five you feel you can put some faith in her. You feel she has a sense of caution and won't do these things: Taste medicine, stand in a window, step into the street.

And yet what will she do in a single day? She will hold medicine to her mouth and ask, "Shall I?" She'll climb to the window. She'll run to the street and hold a foot over the pavement or maybe even put it down. But all before your eye.

Authority Exploration

You know she's exploring your authority and why. Again you tell her the reasons for the rules, and you put a hardness and a softness into your voice. You tell her that if she ever breaks these few rules she'll hurt herself and that if she hurts herself she'll hurt you.

By this slender string of faith all your discipline hangs on if you aren't there—that the child will follow the rules you made, not so much from fear of hurting it, but you, the home of love. Confidence is a hard thing to put in any human being at any age, and it's always a matter of timing—when and to whom. But you have to.

Playful Moments

At almost-five Tracy Ann, like a field dog, strains the outer limits of the leash one moment, the next comes back and chews at the thongs of the love she would not be without. All cubs play at life and freedom until . . .

She still sucks her thumb when she is sleepy, but she already has two boy friends—one down the hall, one at school—and she is as dear as many remembered yesterdays and as far away as many unknown tomorrows.

Some days—every day—I wonder what will happen to her.

When you get right down to it, parenthood has an odd perspective: You see ahead to fail behind. The nearer you feel to children the farther you realize they are.

Hair-raising Problem

MARSHALL, Ark. (AP)—Leroy Martin, 4, was combing his hair and trying to get it parted while his mother watched smilingly. "Mom," said Leroy in exasperation, "I can comb my hair real nice but I can't put the crack in straight."

Missing power on hills?

Missing "go" on getaway?

Missing money with low mileage?

Chances are you have Spark Plug "Miss"!

TCP adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

2 to 3 tankfuls of Super Shell with TCP stop spark plug "miss" which wastes gasoline and robs you of as much as 30 horsepower

You can't see it, you can't hear it, but you can feel spark plug "miss"—when your engine's power fades and you aren't getting the mileage you should.

What causes spark plug "miss"?

Everyday driving, particularly the stop-and-go kind, builds up harmful deposits on the firing ends of spark plugs. These deposits conduct electricity and short out the electrical charge instead of letting it jump the gap and ignite your gasoline.

TCP Adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

Super Shell Gasoline has higher octane for anti-knock. But in today's engines anti-knock alone is not enough. That's why TCP* adds anti-miss to anti-knock. TCP additive neutralizes the deposits that cause spark plug misfiring. After as few as 3 tankfuls of Super Shell with TCP, your engine will be "hitting on all cylinders"—delivering 20 to 30 horsepower it couldn't give you before.

You'll save on gasoline, get better mileage, too, because Super Shell contains a "power pack" of aviation fuel ingredients called aromatics. The extra energy they provide converts automatically to extra miles per gallon. See your Shell Dealer.

Nelson, Williams Urged by Javits To Seek Candidacy

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits said yesterday he is not committed to any one for the Republican nomination for governor. He repeated that he is not interested in getting it himself.

Javits said he has encouraged both Nelson A. Rockefeller and U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams to actively seek the nomination. "Interviewed on the WRCA-TV 'Citizens Union Searchlight' program, Javits said both Rockefeller and Williams represent 'modern Republicanism' of the type symbolized by President Eisenhower."

Javits said Rockefeller and Williams had sought his advice about the GOP gubernatorial nomination and he told each of them: "You are the type of person who is good for our party and our state."

Javits was asked if he thought Rockefeller or Leonard W. Hall, former Republican national chairman, could defeat Democratic Gov. Harriman, who is seeking reelection in November.

The senator replied: "I believe both could defeat Mr. Harriman if they were given the proper organizational support and the issues."

He added that the Republican party "stands about an even chance" in the contest for governor.

Asked about the selection for U. S. senator, Javits said he hopes Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives runs for reelection.

East Norwich Mansion Is Destroyed by Fire

EAST NORWICH, N. Y. (AP)—Fire gutted a 50-year-old, 30-room mansion yesterday and destroyed a trousseau, Currier and Ives originals and a collection of antiques.

Damage was estimated at $150,000. The 2½-story frame house burned for two hours.

The owner, Mrs. Maude Craig of Great Neck, placed a $75,000 value on the house and the same value on the destroyed contents. The mansion had been unoccupied since the death of Mrs. Craig's husband, John L. Craig, New York City and Long Island restaurateur, last summer.

The destroyed trousseau belonged to Mrs. Craig's daughter, Patricia, 23, an actress. She will be married Saturday in Port Washington to London stockbroker Anthony Wagland, 24. Some of Wagland's honeymoon clothing also was destroyed in the fire.

Fire officials are investigating the cause.

Safety Group Head Asks Local Action

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Thomas N. Boate, taking over as permanent chairman of the Citizens Council on Highway Safety, wants communities to persuade their legislators to pass council-backed programs.

Boate, a New York City insurance executive, was named by Gov. Harriman yesterday to head the 100-member council. He had been acting chairman.

A statewide campaign to put grassroots pressure on New York's lawmakers was part of a 1958 program outlined by Boate. Another proposal was to establish driver-training courses in all secondary schools, to include 30 hours of classroom work and 6 hours of actual driving.

The council makes recommendations to the governor on highway-safety programs. Most of its recommendations were killed by the Republican-controlled Legislature at the 1958 session.

Boate is manager of the accident prevention department of the Assn. of Casualty and Surety Companies.

Harriman also appointed several committee heads, including Odell S. Hathaway of Middletown to direct public information. Hathaway is president of the Outdoor Advertising Assn. of America.

Employment Is Up For March in Met Area

NEW YORK (AP)—Employment in the New York - Northeastern New Jersey metropolitan area increased by 6,100 last March.

Seasonal increases in construction, trade and the service industries helped lift employment in the area to 5,433,500.

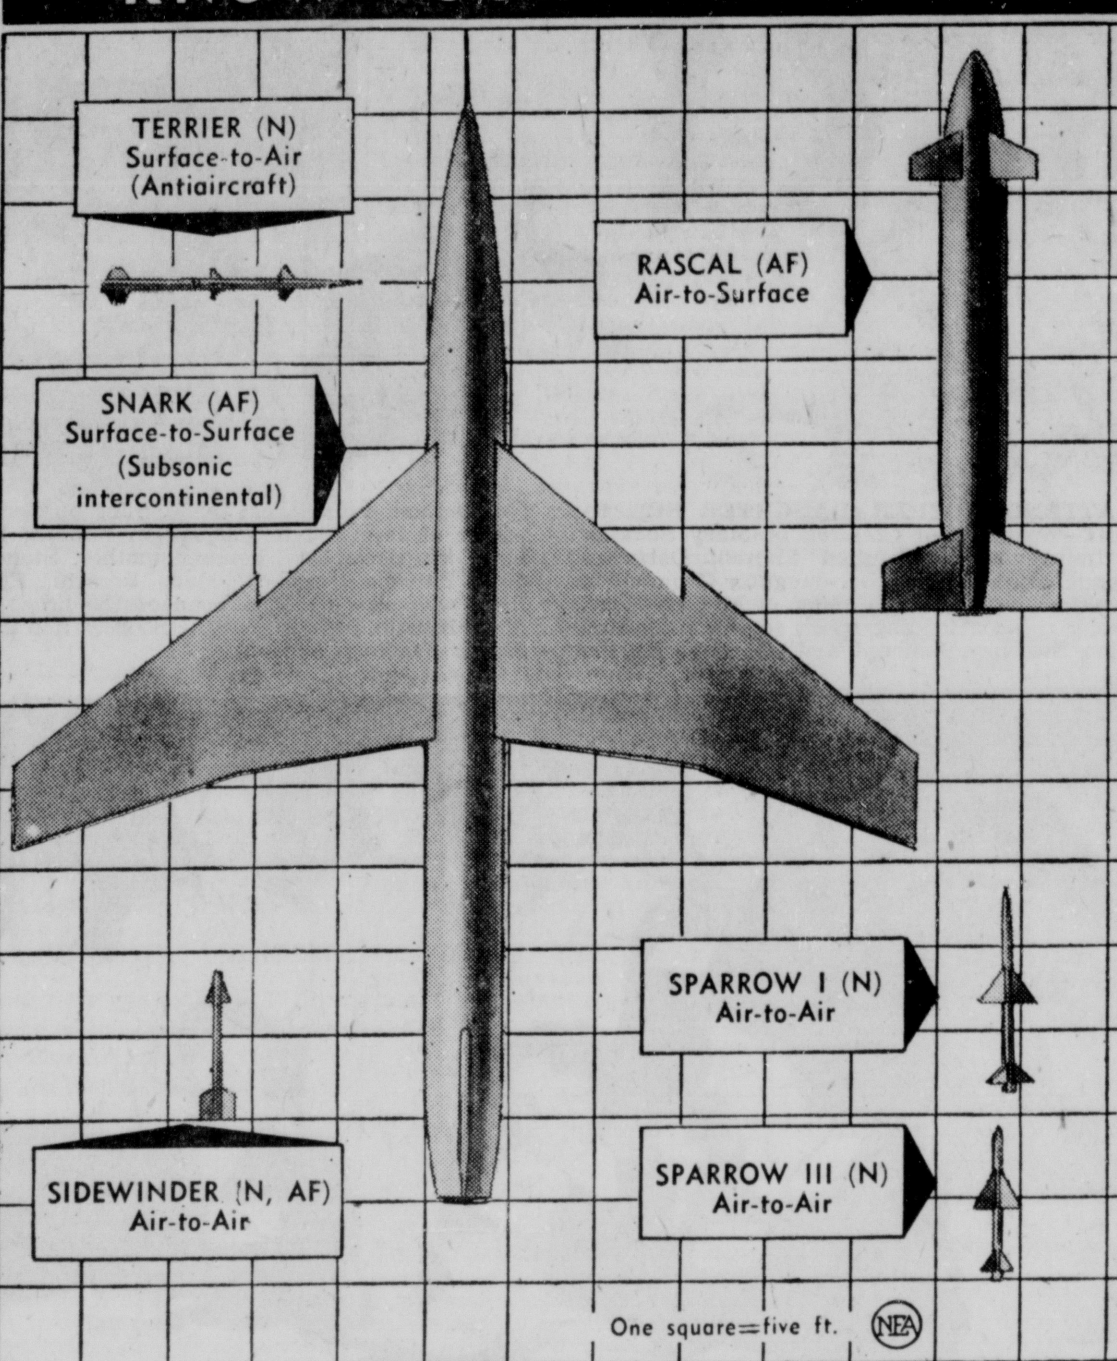

In releasing these figures yesterday, the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said that the February-to-March gain was substantially smaller than is normal during this time of year.

The reasons given for the lag were continued weakness in manufacturing and the impact of a temporary shutdown in the women's dress and suit industry.

Employment in manufacturing industries dropped 25,000 from February to March. Three-fifths of the loss was recorded in the apparel industry.

H. C. Collie, who is an authority on dogs, presided recently at a meeting of the Southeast Missouri Kennel Club.

Dramatic-looking jet-powered Snark, above, is America's only operational intercontinental missile (5,000-mile). It is currently being produced at the rate of two a month. One launching site is under construction. An advanced Snark is under development. Terrier is operational; an improved version will arm an aircraft carrier in 1959. Rascal is a radar-guided, air-launched missile (about 100 miles range), operational with B-47s. Sidewinder and Sparrow I are both operational. (Sparrow II is discontinued.) Sparrow III is in production to replace Sparrow I.

Local Student Will Attend Forestry Camp

WARRENSBURG — Richard A. Styles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Styles of 26 Lucas Avenue, a general forestry major at the State University College of Forestry, Syracuse University, is one of 44 juniors enrolled in the college's 32nd annual spring camp, being held at one of the college's forest properties—the Charles Lathrop Pack Demonstration Forest near Warrensburg.

The announcement was made today by Dr. Hardy L. Shirley, dean of the College of Forestry.

This will be the 31st season that Professor Svend O. Heiberg, chairman of the college's Department of Silviculture and director of college forests, will direct the camp program. The program will include silvicultural work on 2,250-acre Pack Forest and the 15,000-acre Archer and Anna Huntington Wildlife Forest Station near Newcomb (N. Y.), a four-day field trip to forest experiment stations, national and school forests and lumber companies located in the six New England states.

The students will practice tree planting, pruning and thinning—plus they will be performing logging operations by using the latest power equipment. In addition, the future foresters will learn about soil conservation measures, tree disease control, and forest fire prevention and control.

The 33-day spring encampment period will end May 30—and then the campers will be homebound for summer vacation!

Congress May Ignore, Let Act Die

Ike Urges Reciprocal Trade Agreement Be Continued

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—What happens if Congress ignores President Eisenhower's request to continue the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act and lets it die? Not much—for awhile, anyway.

For example, Eisenhower couldn't then agree to lower any more tariffs on goods imported from abroad. But all the present agreements with 43 countries—under which various tariffs have been lowered—would stand unchanged.

Diminishing Confidence

Bit by bit, over a period of time, he might be pushed into raising tariffs, thus beginning the wreckage of all the good will built up over 24 years. There would be a diminishing confidence abroad in American trade policies.

But Eisenhower might actually prefer to see the act die this year—in the hope of getting it renewed next year—than to have Congress extend it for a year but put in changes that would start ripping trade agreements apart in a hurry.

Background on Tariff

This is the background: The Smoot-Hawley tariff law which Congress passed in 1930 not only raised American tariffs to the highest point in history but since other countries retaliated—contributed to the depression here and abroad in the 1930s.

To get world trade going again Congress in 1934 passed the Reciprocal Trade Act.

It gave the President authority to lower tariffs on certain goods imported from other countries if they agreed to lower their tariffs on certain items imported from us.

In these agreements there was an escape clause which either side could use.

For example: If an American manufacturer felt he was being injured because a tariff had been lowered on some particular import which competed in the American market he could appeal to the United States Tariff Commission.

The commission would hold hearings, make an investigation, and perhaps recommend to the President that he use the escape clause to raise the tariff on an import which, in agreement with another country, he had lowered.

Under the act the President was free to suit himself: raise the tariff or reject the commission's recommendations and let the tariff stand untouched.

That brings us up to now. The Trade Act never was permanent law. Over 24 years it has been repeatedly renewed by Congress for a specified period of time. Otherwise it would have died.

It will die automatically June 30 unless Congress renews it. Eisenhower asked for it to be extended five more years. As explained, if it dies, present agreements remain unchanged. The escape clause remains unchanged, too.

If the law dies a manufacturer can appeal to the Tariff Commission. It can recommend to Eisenhower that an agreed-on tariff be raised. He'd still be free to raise it or let it stand as is. But he couldn't lower any more tariffs.

Recession Involved

But this is a recession year. A number of businesses complain that some imports—whose tariffs are now part of agreements with other countries—are hurting them. So the Trade Act has many foes inside and outside Congress.

If the act dies, there will be increasing pressure on Eisenhower to use the escape clause to raise tariffs. If he does so, other countries will retaliate by using the escape clause to raise tariffs against us.

But if the law dies he can still reject the increases and in another year—particularly in the recession recedes—can go back and ask with better hope of success that the law be renewed again.

The act's enemies might do the whole trade program more damage by renewing it this year with crippling changes.

They might include a provision giving Eisenhower no choice but to raise tariffs if the Tariff Commission recommended the action to protect an injured American industry.

Why We Say--

BABY: The Latin word "infans" for a baby who couldn't speak yet is the same as the modern word infantry. In the Middle Ages, knights in armor used to employ young boys as attendants to run alongside them when mounted. . . . The boys were not allowed to speak and were more or less foot soldiers as we know them today.

STOP THIEF!

Blight is a dangerous sneak-thief. Decay anywhere in your community can steal your family's security by breeding slums. Slums raise your taxes, lower your property values, rob you of school and business facilities.

Blight is also a killer. It thrives on carelessness and neglect. From one run-down home it spreads stealthily outward, street by street. In no time at all, whole neighborhoods are strangled, destroyed.

Stay alert. You have a personal stake in your neighborhood. Begin by keeping up your own home. Then join with your neighbors in local community-improvement groups. You'll find people eager to help. Working together, everybody gains—everyone can enjoy better living in better neighborhoods.

A DIFFICULT SITUATION

Dear Mrs. Post: I am in the mid-twenties and living at home with my parents. I have many friends and would like very much to ask them to my house on occasion but hesitate to do so because my father strenuously objects to anyone smoking in the house. Would it be rude to ask them not to smoke?

Answer: I don't know when I've had a more difficult question to answer because a majority of young people today take smoking for granted and some would even go so far as to refuse to go to a party where they couldn't smoke. Whether to tell them before-hand or ask them after they get there to please not smoke, is an unhappy situation either way. But as your father so seriously objects, and you can hardly go against his wishes in his house, it will certainly be best to tell anyone you wish to invite of your father's ban against their smoking so that they will not accept if they seriously mind this restriction.

A Message of Good Wishes

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just learned of the marriage of a friend of mine and would like to send him a message of good wishes. Should I address it to him alone, or to Mr. and Mrs.? His bride is a complete stranger to me.

Answer: Write to him and send good wishes to both.

Thanking Bridegroom's Parents

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please answer the following question on wedding etiquette? "A" claims that a note of thanks should be written to the parents of the bridegroom for a substantial check received from them as a wedding present. "B" claims that a note of thanks to the bridegroom's parents is not only unnecessary but ridiculous. I would like to know who is right.

Answer: Unless they live at such a distance that they cannot come home to the wedding, the bridegroom's parents should be thanked appreciatively in person and not by note.

Should the tissue papers covering the engraving on wedding invitations be removed before mailing? This and other information will be found in leaflet E-10, "Wedding Invitations and Announcements." Consensus of opinion following the performance affirmed that it was an excellent concert.

Although the group of almost 90 voices has many new members, the quality of the fine concert was not impaired.

Under the able direction of Leonard Stine, director of music at the high school, the program opened with the sacred "Adamus Te," from Palestrina. It was amazing to note the comprehension that these young people have for sacred music. An equally fine job was done with "O Gladstone Light," Arhangelsky; "Donna Nobis Pacem," which was arranged by Wilson; and "Ave Maria," by Verdi, which exhibited the fine sustaining powers of the group.

All the soloists were very well chosen for their respective selections. They included Gloria Costa, Carol Haulenbeck, Homer Foster, David Rylance, Robert Bogart, Richard Luedtke, Janet Kaercher, Lawrence Hyatt, Charlotte Brugmann, Evelyn Peterson, Carol Miller, Angela Lovy, Frank Parslow, Matthew Ten Eyck, Dorothy Snell, Sandra Buehring, Glen Bohnke, Julia Garraghan, Penelope Johnson, Petra Albers, Carol Gaise, Nancy Domanico and Janet Hornbeck.

The choir displayed a unique feeling for the various moods found in "Ballad for Americans." They very capably projected the feeling of each period in American history. Their strive for perfection in their voices, diction, interpretation, was very laudable.

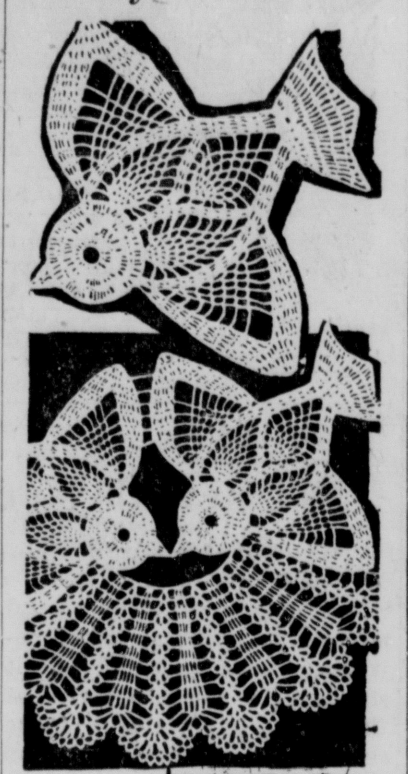

Roy Stewart, who took the solo part in "Ballad for Americans" gave an excellent performance.

Hours of rehearsals reaped dividends for the Kingston High School Choir in that they gave an intelligent program of music and presented their program in a manner worthy of the attention of the entire community.

For an encore, the choir sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic." Dolores Every, accompanist for the choir, who did an outstanding job, was joined in the last number at the keyboard by William Dunn.

Meat Handlers Strike

LONDON (AP)—A strike by 6,500 meat handlers at Smithfield Market, London's meat wholesale center, began at midnight Sunday. Supplies, already short because of a truckers' strike, are expected to become acute if the walkout continues.

The handlers quit work in protest against the discharge of 600 of their number as the result of a previous walkout by meat truck drivers. The drivers' strike meant less work for handlers and employers let some men go.

Compromise Opposed

PARIS (AP)—A new wave of opposition to any compromise in Algeria today imperiled Pierre France's 25th postwar government. Pflimlin's chances of forming France's 25th postwar government.

Resentment—fanned by rebel execution of three French soldiers—made it doubtful the leader of the Catholic Popular Republican Movement could form a government able to negotiate any sort of peace in Algeria.

Pflimlin seeks National Assembly approval Tuesday. If he fails, France will go on under the crisis which broke four weeks ago when the legislators forced Premier Felix Gaillard out because they didn't like his North African policies.

Explorer Returns

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP)—Dr. Vivian Fuchs, the British explorer who led the first 2,100-mile overland crossing of the antarctic continent, returned home to hero's welcome today.

Fuchs, 50, came ashore from the liner Rangitoto which arrived from New Zealand with other members of the expedition.

Pound Rebel Forces

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Government troops continued today to pound rebel invaders of East Indonesia's Halmahera Island after a weekend of sharp fighting.

Army Information Chief Lt. Col. Rudy Pirngadie said the counter-attack was launched Friday against Halmahera, 200 miles across the Molucca Sea, from the Menado, the rebel headquarters. The rebels invaded Halmahera last Tuesday.

Pakistan Epidemics

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Russia joined the United States Sunday in sending doctors and medical supplies to help Pakistan fight twin epidemics of cholera and smallpox.

Reports from East Pakistan said between 15,000 and 20,000 deaths occurred since the diseases broke out in early April.

Predicts Red Weapons

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Communist China's vice premier and foreign minister, Chen Yi, was quoted today as saying the Peking regime will have atomic weapons in the future although it does not possess them now.

The United States, Britain and Soviet Union are now the world's three atomic powers, but a Stuttgart paper quoted Chen Yi as saying in an interview Sunday the three powers might soon lose their monopoly.

Greek Support Assured

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Handsomeness Premier Constantine Karamanlis' governing rightwing party rolled up a sizable majority in the new Parliament today, assuring continuance of Greece's firm pro-Western course.

The big surprise was the heavy vote for the Communist-line EDA, the Union of the Democratic Left. It more than doubled the 10 per cent of the popular vote it won in the 1956 elections.

Stritch Improving

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII expressed his pleasure today after getting a first-hand report on the continued improvement of Samuel Cardinal Stritch.

The report was made to the pontiff by Italian specialist Pietro Valdini, who amputated the cardinal's right arm last month.

Wedding Carriage

BAMBERG, Germany (AP)—Lt. Johnny H. Cooper, who married Edith Neubarth of Germany Saturday, came up with a unique idea for his wedding carriage—the 30-ton tractor that normally pulls "Atom Army," the U. S. Army's big atomic gun.

The big tractor trained the customary tin cans. Cooper is from Princeton, W. Va.

Railway Firemen Strike

MONTREAL (AP)—Striking firemen on the Canadian Pacific Railway watched the resumption of full-scale weekday schedules today to gauge the effectiveness of their nationwide walkout.

The CPR, one of Canada's two transcontinental lines, ran the majority of its scheduled Sunday trains with crews of company supervisory personnel and members of other railroad unions who walked through the firemen's picket lines.

The 3,000-member Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen began the strike at 6 a.m. Sunday, the

Fire Instructors Conference Set At Albany May 18

The Division of Safety's 10th annual fire instructors conference will be held May 18-23, 1958 at Hotel Ten Eyck, Albany, it was announced today by Michael H. Prendergast, director of safety. The conference will be under the direction of Charles M. Fales, chief of the division's Bureau of Fire Mobilization and Control.

This conference is held annually to qualify county fire instructors to conduct classes in the state fire training program. It is part of the Division of Safety's long-range program to standardize fire training in New York State and to introduce the latest fire fighting techniques.

This year the prime purpose of the conference is to bring the New York State fire training program up-to-date by revising the existing basic, intermediate and advanced courses.

Techniques Changing
"Fire fighting techniques are ever changing as new equipment and new extinguishing agents are developed," said Prendergast. "To maintain our leadership in fireman's training, such new developments must be included in the training materials which are made available to the state fire service."

"Approximately 100 county fire instructors, many of whom have been with the state fire training program since its inception in 1949, will critically examine the existing program with an eye toward incorporating new tested materials and to tailor make the training program to even closer meet the needs of our firemen."

Paralleling improvement in materials, stress will also be given to improving the quality of instruction. A discussion of the instructional process will be followed by a period of practice instruction including a constructive analysis of each instructor's methods.

"The decisions of this important conference will set the pattern of the New York State fire training program for the next several years," Prendergast said.

Cancel Insurance Policy on Car of NC Negro Leader

MONROE, N. C. (AP)—An insurance company, noting racial unrest in Union County, has canceled automobile insurance of a Negro leader.

The Nationwide Insurance Co. dropped machinist Robert F. Williams' collision and comprehensive coverage, effective today.

Williams, 33, as president of the county chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, has been a figure in several racial controversies in this area, 20 miles southeast of Charlotte.

"The affiliation of Mr. Williams with the NAACP, as such, was not a factor," said Elton Parker, personnel and public relations manager of the insurance company's Raleigh regional office.

Parker said that Nationwide's agent in Monroe reported "that rocks had been thrown at his (Williams') car and home several times by people driving by his home at night. These incidents just forced us to get off the comprehensive and collision portions of his policy."

Williams' reports of acts of violence have sometimes been unconfirmed by police and denied at least once.

Fishermen Find Body

BRIDGEPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Fishermen have found the body of 22-year-old Charles Jacobs of Vernon Center, who died last Dec. 15 when his single-engine plane plunged into Oneida Lake.

The body was spotted Saturday floating in Messenger's Bay near this Madison County village. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton E. Jacobs of Vernon Center, identified the body.

State police said eyewitnesses reported at the time seeing Jacobs fall clear of the plane as it spun into the water.

Bid Reveals North's Queen

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Not only does today's hand produce 13 tricks at either no-trump, hearts or clubs, but it should be a cinch to arrive at the grand slam in one of the suits. Duplicate bridge players ought to be able to get to the maximum no-trump contract.

Nevertheless, when it was played in the recent San Angelo Sectional only three pairs managed to get to the top spot.

The bidding by one pair, Mrs. Bob Powers and Mrs. W. S. Hunter, was most interesting and illustrates a novel use of the Blackwood Convention.

Mrs. Hunter chose to respond three clubs and show her strength immediately. Hence, she only bid four hearts at her second turn.

Then Mrs. Powers took over. Her four no-trump asked for aces and when her partner showed three of them Mrs. Powers counted 13 tricks at no-trump provided that she would be able to run the club suit.

She bid five no-trump to ask for kings and when Mrs. Hunter responded six clubs to show no kings, Mrs. Powers bid the grand slam in no-trump with complete confidence. Her partner just had to have the queen of clubs and the club suit had to be solid.

PARADE FOR PEACE—A banner calling for peace between Arabs and Israelis is displayed by youths parading through Nazareth, Israel. The sign shows an Arab holding an olive branch and an Israeli with a dove of peace as both break a rifle. The paraders are members of "kibbutzes," or cooperative farms, in the area.

Man Can Survive In Space, Navy Officer Advises

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—"I feel good...man can survive in space."

With these sentiments, the Navy's Lt. Cmdr. Jack Nieman Jr., Sunday ended a pioneer venture into simulated outer space.

The time was 10:10 a. m.—44 hours to the minute after Nieman had been sealed in a pressure chamber at the Norfolk Naval Air Station for exposure to conditions of altitudes up to 105,000 feet.

Clad in a new, lightweight space suit, Nieman set a record for endurance under circumstances that could have meant almost instant death had anything gone wrong.

The Navy said his stay in the enormously complex pressure chamber provided enough information "to forecast the effects of space flight on man for days, weeks, or a month."

The visible effects on Nieman were negligible. The inflated suit rubbed blisters on his wrists and irritated his neck. His boots were too tight and had to be changed. Nieman left the pressure chamber four hours short of the Navy's original 48-hour goal, but Cmdr. A. L. Hall, medical officer in charge of the experiment, said there was no need for continuing it longer.

Fraudulent Check Charge

A charge of petit larceny in the alleged issuing of a fraudulent check resulted in the arrest of John Wolfel, 21, of 13 Second Avenue, Saturday night. Trooper William Shurtler of the Ellenville state police made the arrest on complaint of a Kerhonkson resident. He pleaded innocent when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel of Kerhonkson and was committed to the Ulster County jail in lieu of $75 bail for an appearance at 7 p. m. today.

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Take your pick, folks, this week is both Hospital and Transportation Week in New York State.

In proclaiming Hospital Week, Gov. Harriman said Saturday New York had made important advances in modernizing its hospitals. Further improvement, he added, must depend on the continued cooperation of government, private agencies and individual citizens.

KINGSTON'S FIRST DRIVE IN GAS STATION

As many old-timers may recognize, one of Kingston's first gasoline service stations was opened over 37 years ago by Austin R. Newcombe, at Broadway and Delaware Avenue. This was the FIRST of several drive-in type service stations erected in this part of the Country. And the same pioneering methods and a desire to improve customer service are as true of the "Newcombe Oil Company" today as they were then. You can prove this by ordering your fuel requirements from Kingston's oldest Fuel Oil Distributor.

Art Students League School Opens in Woodstock, June 3

The Art Students League summer school will open its 1958 session in Woodstock on Tuesday, June 3, and classes will continue through the summer to August 28, it was announced today by Arnold Blanch.

The announcement spiked long standing rumors that the Art Students League school would not re-open this summer. The instructors will be Arnold Blanch, Frank J. Reilly, and Zygmunt Menkes. Blanch and Reilly will conduct their classes for the full summer session and Menkes will have classes in July and August only.

Established in 1905, The Art Students League of New York established its first summer school in Woodstock in 1905, and many of the now famous Woodstock artists, who make Woodstock their home, originally came here as students of the league.

In 1947, the league purchased the former NYU buildings on the Saugerties Road, and, after making extensive improvements on the buildings and grounds, it has become one of the show places of Ulster County, and also one of the most important and attractive summer art schools in the country.

Among the noted American painters who have been instructors in the league Woodstock summer school are Berge Harrison, Henry Lee McFee, Eugene Speicher, Yasuo Kuniyoshi, Paul Burlin, Philip Guston, Edward Millman, Fletcher Martin, and Edward Chavez.

This school has brought students to Woodstock from all parts of the country, as well as from Japan, Canada, France, England, and several South American countries.

The total registration of students last summer was 140, and the number of advance inquiries for this season gives promise to an even larger registration for the coming summer.

Poppy Sale Helps Needy Children

Memorial poppies worn in honor of the nation's war dead on Poppy Day help bring aid to needy children of war veterans throughout the year. Mrs. Kay Robertello, Child Welfare chairman of the Woodstock unit, American Legion Auxiliary No. 1026, pointed out, as the Auxiliary continued preparations for the observance of annual Poppy Day in Woodstock on May 24.

Contributions received by the volunteer poppy workers will go into Auxiliary child welfare funds, as well into funds which finance the Auxiliary's work for disabled veterans.

The Auxiliary is at work continually in activities for needy children of veterans and to improve conditions for all children. "More than half of all children are now children of veterans and the Auxiliary is carrying a heavy load in its work for the unfortunate among them," said Mrs. Robertello, "and will be grateful for help given us on Poppy Day."

January Jury Is Adjourned Today To July 14 Noon

Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick at noon today adjourned the session of the January Grand Jury to July 14 at noon. This is the grand jury which has been hearing evidence in the road oil kickback investigation and which has already returned indictments.

A request for further postponement of the grand jury was made by Special Prosecutor Bernard Tompkins, who has been assigned by the attorney general's office to supercede District Attorney Howard C. St. John in the kickback investigation.

Governor Harriman on Saturday ordered an extraordinary term of supreme court to continue the investigation into corruption in official circles in the county.

A special grand jury will be drawn to serve during the term over which Justice Henry Clay Greenberg of New York City will preside by designation of the governor.

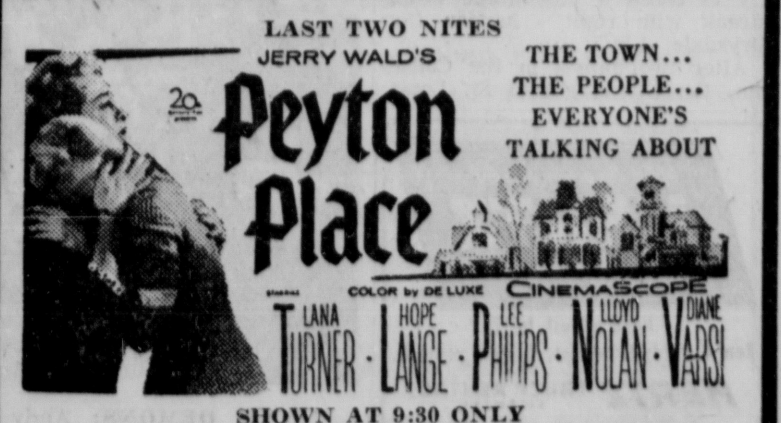

The January Grand Jury will continue for a 60-day period in order that a grand jury will be available for the Tompkins probe in the event there is immediate need for a grand jury before the new grand jury is organized.

Says Delaware Troopers Forced Plea of Guilty

ALBANY, N. Y. (U)—A New York State man contends Delaware state troopers beat his wife and forced him, under duress, to plead guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of an intoxicating beverage.

Augustus F. Bouchard, 51, of Schenectady is seeking to save his driver's license.

New York State revoked his license after Delaware motor vehicle authorities certified the Delaware conviction and a $200 fine last March 23. Bouchard won a stay of the revocation from Justice Isadore Bookstein of State Supreme Court in Albany Saturday.

Bouchard says he and his wife were on vacation when troopers stopped him at Newark, Del. They accused him of weaving in and out of traffic.

Bouchard says they urged him to plead guilty to a charge of drunken driving and told him he then would be released. He refused to plead guilty, he says, so they took him to a barracks and held him for eight hours. While there, he was told his wife had fallen down stairs and had been taken to a hospital.

He alleges the troopers refused to let him go to the hospital or to engage an attorney. Finally, he pleaded guilty. When he reached the hospital, he says, his wife told him troopers had beaten her. She suffered a black eye and cuts, he says.

DID THE IMPOSSIBLE—Until last Christmas, this bell in the Warrenville, Ill., Community Baptist Church had hung cracked and mute for 20 years. Placed in the original church in 1902, it was damaged in a fire which burned down the church in 1934. When the church was rebuilt in 1937, there was no money for a new bell and no one believed the old one could ever be repaired. Then last year a church member, an employee of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, contacted one of the company's pipeline welders, Bernie Hamilton, above, who thought he could do it. No one in the congregation knew anything about the repair job until, on Christmas Eve, they were astonished as the deep mellow tones of the long-silent bell pealed from the belfry once more.

12 Marks Broken as Record Field Competes in New Paltz Relays

Hudson and Linton Runners Take Feature Events at 7th Classic

By TONY CORAPI
Freeman Sports Staff

A record entry of 818 contestants representing 39 schools helped to establish 12 new marks at the seventh running of the Hudson Valley Relays at New Paltz Saturday afternoon.

Considering track conditions as a result of the heavy rain during the past week, it was amazing that so many new marks were set. The course was slow and running was made more difficult excluding the hurdles events, by a strong head wind.

Had conditions been normal, officials predicted that many more records would have fallen and some of the new marks would have been better.

One of the marks was set in the Invitation Mile event by Ray Westendorp of Linton High School, Schenectady, formerly known as Nott Terrace.

Fast Mile

Westendorp toured the distance in 4:32, eclipsing 5.3 seconds from the old mark set by John O'Sullivan, a teammate who passed up the event and ran anchor in the 880 yard relay. He turned in a sparkling effort as his team broke the record with a 4:51.8 effort. Nott Terrace set the mark with 4:55 last year.

The Linton distance runner won the event going away. Lou Faxon of Saugerties had two good quarters but he fell far behind in the last two and was about 50 yards back when the winner crossed the finish line.

Hudson Speedster

Andy Spodris, a Hudson speedster, took the Invitation 100 yard dash with a spurt of 10.7 and broke the 180 low hurdles record. He was clocked in 21 seconds, eight seconds better than the mark set in 1953 by George Ellsworth, Suffern. Spodris, who came to this country two years ago from Europe, was disappointed in his 10.7 time for the dash. He was clocked in 10.1 in competition last week and had visions of breaking the 10.2 mark held jointly by Tom Sutherland of Arlington and Paul Collins, Mahopac.

Strong Wind

But bucking a strong head wind definitely hampered the Hudson Whippet. Pete Brokaw, Nyack finished second about a yard back. Dick Theodore, Port Jervis was third and Bob Burnett of Linton was fourth.

Highland Falls was clocked in 50 seconds in the 440 yard junior high school relay in Class I. The old mark of 50.7 was set by Cardinal Farley Military Academy.

The Newburgh Free Academy team turned the trick in 48 seconds in Class I to break the 48.5 record set in 1956 by South Junior High of Newburgh.

In the Class II 500 event, Charles Houghtaling of Goshen heaved the saucer 133 feet and six inches. This was five inches better than the old mark set by E. I. Ray, Millbrook in 1953.

Take Two-Mile Relay

Ossining High School, competing in the event on a full scale for the first time, set a new record in the two-mile relay. The squad toured the track eight times in 8:41, breaking a mark of 8:46.5 set by Nott Terrace last year.

Onteora Central pushed Highland Falls into a record in the 440 yard relay in Class II in a blistering performance. It was one of the day's most thrilling events. Charlie Cange, Onteora anchor was on the heels of Steve Perfector, Falls' speedster as he hit the tape.

Onteora Does Well

The Indians scored 14½ points, placing third in Class II. They topped the 880 relay by a stride over Highland Falls in 1:39.5.

The combination of Gilligan-Schulman - McCrossan - Cange turned on the speed in the home stretch to take home laurels in the event. Onteora's time bested seven other schools in Class II. Art Mann, Croton-Harmon, who established a new record in the high jump in Class III, just missed going over the six-foot bar. His trail foot nicked the bar when it appeared he had cleared it.

Hal Dixon, Highland Falls, tied the new mark in the Class 2 event. The old mark of 5'8½" was set by Bernie Burdick of Haldane in 1952.

During the six-hour program a total of 386 awards were made. There were 94 trophies, a similar amount of medals, 188 ribbons and 10 plaques.

Officials Dined

Officials were feted at a luncheon in the school cafeteria before the meet got underway. Joseph Roberge, New Paltz Central Coach, was general chairman. G. Everett Stevens, director of athletics at Newburgh, was referee. Frederick C. Dippel was clerk of the course. Dr. Charles Wolbers was head timer; Harold Elsbree, head finish judge; Harry Streifer, head field judge; Glen Hines and Harold Ochs, starters; Joseph Crescimbeni, chief inspector.

The area schools and boys who placed are:

Shot put—Class II. B. Parsons, Port Jervis, 46-2; Class I. Bob Daddio, Newburgh, 45-4.

High jump—Class II. Norm Boggs, Onteora, second place 5-6.

Invitation mile—Lou Faxon, Saugerties, second.

Two mile relay—New Paltz, second, Class III.

Two mile relay—Port Jervis, Class II.

One mile relay—Liberty, first, Class II; Onteora, fifth.

The Standings:

Class I
Linton 30, Ossining 27½, Newburgh 27, Nyack 20, Spring Valley 8, Clarkstown 4, Arlington 3, Newburgh Junior High 3, Poughkeepsie 2½, Wappingers Falls 1.

ABC Leaders Survive Weekend Shooting

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The leaders in all divisions of the 55th American Bowling Congress tournament enjoyed another session Sunday in which their domination was not challenged seriously.

Sullivan's grill of Forest Park, Ill., was the only 5-man unit to rise above mediocrity in the open team category. It rolled a 2920 series.

LONG-WINDED BOYS: Members of Linton High School's record breaking 1¼ mile medley at the Hudson Valley Relays are from left, Tom Wilcox, Jeff Sturrock, Pete Schuyler and John O'Sullivan. The quartet was clocked in 4:51.8. The old mark of 4:55 was set by the same school last spring.

Giants Coming East After Big Stand at Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Giants hit the road today after cutting a wide swath—both on the field and at the box office—in their initial stand in new home territory.

On the field, the Giants were 15-9 in the National League won-loss column, just a game behind first place Milwaukee.

At the box office, the attendance count for the first 20 home dates total 304,257, an average of 15,213. The Polo Grounds total for the same period last season was 182,285.

Vice President Chub Feeney said 21,000 seats were sold for Sunday's rained out series finale with Los Angeles. It was the first major league postponement on the West Coast.

The Giants, victors over the Dodgers six of eight times, head back to Los Angeles on the start of a three-week road trip. The two teams played a three-game series in Dodgerland the first week of the season.

Manager Bill Rigney hopes to make it five in a row tonight for the Giants with right-hander Ruben Gomez, 2-2. Walt Alston will try to break a three-game losing streak with right-hander Don Drysdale, 1-5.

After two games in the Coliseum, the Giants got to St. Louis.

Chicago, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and back to St. Louis before returning to greet the world champion Braves June 3.

Feeney said the Braves opener already is a sellout.

The largest crowd in Seals Stadium was the April 15 opening day mob of 23,448.

"We're very pleased," Feeney said. "If we had the room we could have sold 40,000 tickets for several of the weekenders."

Sunday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Batting—Irv Noren and Hobie Landrith, Cardinals, Noren singled in the winning run in the ninth inning in the Cards' first game 8-7 triumph over Chicago. Pitch hit Landrith singled with the bases full in the ninth as the Cards won the second game 6-5.

Pitching—Bob Porterfield, Pirates, American League castoff, purchased from Boston last week, pitched a brilliant 11-inning shutout as Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 10-4 and 1-0.

The Tigers must cut three players by midnight Tuesday. The manager said Shaw was a "borderline case" before his work Sunday.

"No doubt about it," said Tighe, "That saved his job. We can't send him out now. Shaw can be just as good as he wants to be."

The New York-born hurler confessed he was "just a little tired" when he relieved starter Jim Bunning, who retired after two innings with a pulled muscle.

"When I went out there, I tried not to think about being sent to the minors. I thought about how much better it'd be to spend the summer in the big leagues."

Shaw's first major league pitching triumph came just in time to save his job.

The Detroit Tiger right-hander gained it in a six-inning relief stint Sunday as the Tigers clobbered the Kansas City Athletics 10-3. Manager Jack Tighe said afterward that Shaw's two-run, seven-hit effort "will keep him from being sent to the minors."

Shaw has gone just about as far as he could go on his winter league reputation, having failed to impress in five earlier showings that included two starts. The young right-hander was selected as the Cuban Winter League's most valuable player.

Bob Porterfield Elates Murtaugh After 1-0 Shutout

PITTSBURGH (AP)—If Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates is smiling a bit more broadly today, credit veteran pitcher Bob Porterfield.

The ex-American League looked like the answer to a manager's dreams Sunday as he pitched a 1-0 shutout over the Philadelphia Phillies in 11 innings in the nightcap of a doubleheader.

Typically, Murtaugh wouldn't definitely commit himself whether Porterfield was "in" as the Pirates' fourth starting pitcher. But it was evident Murtaugh won't need much more convincing to slot the Princeton, W. Va., resident in starting rotation with Bob Friend, Ron Kline and Vernon Law.

"This is the first time I've ever seen him pitch," Murtaugh said in the dressing room. "He certainly looked like a real pitcher to me. He had pinpoint control and that's all there was to it. You can bet he's going to start again — and soon."

Porterfield, a 10-year man in the American League, came to the Pirates on waivers last week from the Boston Red Sox. Pittsburgh reportedly paid the waiver price tag of $20,000.

The 33-year-old, right-hander, who posted a 22-10 record with the Washington Senators in 1953 for his best year in the majors, had a mediocre 4-4 mark last season. He pitched only four innings this year before coming to the Pirates.

Heavy Baseball Schedule Faces Onteora, Sawyers; Arlington Here Tuesday

The rain has played havoc with the baseball schedules and athletic slates in general. Kingston High, luckily has managed to get its games in, but Onteora and Saugerties each will be playing three games this week in an effort to get up to date.

The Maroons draw a bye in DUSO competition today, but take on Arlington tomorrow at Dietz Stadium and will journey to Hyde Park Thursday for an encounter with Roosevelt High School.

Coach Al Gruner's squad is playing .500 ball in the DUSO with a 2-2 record. They are 3-3 overall. The outlook for its future games is bright. The pitchers have been delivering and Coach Gruner looks for his hitters to come out of their doldrums when the squad resumes DUSO action May 19th against Newburgh there.

UCAL Leaders

The picture is a little brighter at Boiceville where Coach Tom Wheeler's baseballers are leading the UCAL with a 4-0 record. They lost the opener to Cairo and have whittled through all opposition since then.

Pitching tells the story of the Indians' success. They have the best hurling combination in these parts in Bruce Wiederspiel and Jim Rose. If they can get by a couple of toughies against Marlboro this week, the Indians will be on their way to another championship.

Face Speedballer

Jack Kroh's boys haven't been doing too well, but have one of the most celebrated hurlers in the league in Dom DiCapua. In the last two outings, DiCapua has been the victim of some bad breaks. He is a speedballer and he is certain to give the Indians plenty of trouble. Like the Indians, Marlboro is weak at the dish. But today's battle at Marlboro should be a real pitcher's battle between Wiederspiel and DiCapua, while on Friday the same two teams hook up at Boiceville. DiCapua is certain to get the nod again with Rose his probable foe.

Saugerties, unbeaten in six starts, will put its record on the line today at home, tomorrow and Friday. In DSCL competition, the Sawyers meet Wappingers Falls in Dutchess County Friday.

Boros' 273 Wins Hot Springs Open

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The 36-hole grind was hard on 38-year-old Julius Boros, but the phlegmatic links workman from Mid Pines, N. C., saved a little bit for when he needed it and won the $20,000 Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

Boros took his first tournament victory since he won the world championship at Tam O'Shanter in 1955 by ramming down birdie putts of 15 and 10 feet on Nos. 17 and 18 to stage off a fast finish by Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood, Fla.

The closing birdies gave Boros a one-under par round of 71 and a 72-hole total of 273. At the midpoint of the final round — after Boros turned in two-under par — it looked as if the tanned, former U.S. Open king had the triumph in the bag.

Texas Tornado Funnels Alert Lubbock Residents

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Tornado funnels danced across the Texas South Plains early today and Lubbock was alerted to possible danger.

A tornado funnel was sighted in the air 18 miles southwest of this city of 140,000. Newly installed sirens wailed a warning at 12:40 a.m.

Highway patrolmen said the twister remained aloft. No reports of damage were received. Sightings of at least four other tornado funnels were reported by the patrol.

Hailstorms lashed the general area near Lubbock Sunday night.

First recorded harness racing was held at Harlem, N. Y., in 1806.

Mamie Spends Mother's Day With Mrs. Doud

DENVER (AP) — The nation's first lady arrived in Denver Sunday morning and spent Mothers Day with her mother, Mrs. Elvira Doud.

Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower came by train with her sister, Mrs. Gordon Moore of Washington and Mrs. Eisenhower's personal physician, Col. Walter Tkach.

Mrs. Eisenhower brought a bouquet and small cake as Mother's Day gifts. She is expected to stay through Tuesday, Mrs. Doud's 80th birthday.

Secret Service men took precautions to prevent reporters from speaking to Mrs. Eisenhower.

Earl School, head of the Denver office of the Secret Service, said James Hagerty had not given clearance for interviews with Mrs. Eisenhower.

14 Die in Mishaps

home by a car that mounted the safety island, police said.

David Antone darted into the street and was hit by a car moving at slow speed. David, believed not seriously hurt, walked to his home. Later he lapsed into a coma and died.

A mother of three, Ruth Brady, 33, of Malone, was killed and her husband and the children were injured when their car and another collided head-on on Route 11 near Richville Friday night.

Clarence Bolton, 34, of East Orange, N. J., was the workman hurled from the 14th floor window. Authorities were baffled as to whether Bolton was blasted or jumped in panic from a locked solarium in New York hospital. He was working alone at the time.

Other fatalities, by community:

Truxton—Frank Riley, 59, Vesper, two-car collision Friday night.

Poughkeepsie — Donal Pingrey, 22, Glens Falls, a guard at Greenhaven Prison, car struck a culvert and overturned Saturday.

Warsaw—Roger Christ, 20 Warsaw, car overturned on Route 19 Saturday.

LaGrangeville—James Callahan, 54, Hyde Park, car hit a tree along Route 376 Sunday.

Albion — Scott Waterman, 53, farm laborer, fire Sunday destroyed shack in which he lived.

Mastic—Clarence Ross, 72, passenger in car that collided with another Sunday.

New York City—Man identified tentatively from papers as Dan McPhee, 55, (no address given), struck by a car Sunday night at 3rd Avenue and 26th Street.

Boy's Wrist Fractured

Robert Lacy, 12, of 226 Wall Street, suffered a wrist fracture in a car-bicycle mishap Saturday afternoon. A police report at 3:40 p. m. said the boy's bicycle collided with the car of Ira L. Hunter, 25, of 124 Lucas Avenue.

Lacy was taken to Kingston Hospital where his condition was reported as "fair" today.

Deposits fiscal year July 1 $64,963,389,572.63

House Committee Starts Voting on Reciprocal Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee starts showdown voting today on reciprocal trade legislation with the odds seemingly stacked against approval of President Eisenhower's proposals in their present form.

Democratic leaders hoped to hold the line against revisions which would restrict or greatly change the operations of the 24-year-old Trade Agreements Act. But they were also ready to settle for modifications which, though far short of the President's goal, would still preserve the act in what they consider workable form.

Strong opposition has developed from industries which contend they are hurt by foreign imports. Supporters say, however, that the United States sells more abroad than it buys, and must show continued willingness to accept other countries' products.

There was no indication that the administration would heed committee appeals for concessions that would appease the measure's House foes. The committee halted consideration of the bill last week to give the administration time to propose changes in its original request for a five-year extension and authority to cut tariffs as much as 25 per cent during that period.

Italy has a population of approximately 46 million people.

Printing Bids Are Sought by Supervisors

Bids for printing 500 copies of the 1957 proceedings of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors are being sought by the Committee on Printing.

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the clerk at the court house until May 22 when at 2 p. m. the bids will be publicly opened. Bidders must present a check for $100 with their bids. The checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned.

Members of the Printing Committee are James E. Martin, Leo Stauble and Alexander J. Banyo.

Crashing Jet Damages Parked Car, Rooftop

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—A crashing Navy jet, the ninth to fall in the area in the last 15 months, did slight damage to two parked cars and a rooftop and narrowly missed two restaurants Sunday.

The pilot, Lt. Derek Wilson, 26, Los Altos, bailed out without injury. His F8U-1 Crusader went out of control as it approached for a landing at Moffett Naval Air Station, the Navy said.

The jet skimmed by a hamburger stand and crashed in flames 100 feet from a restaurant filled with Mothers Day customers, eight miles west of San Jose.

For a bit of old Ireland, you can't beat the town of Erin, Wis. Donegal Road intersects Dublin Drive and Shamrock Road crosses Emerald Drive.
